With F.M.L.

Gene Blake, newly returned to Cameron from Ponca City, Okla., pledged $1,000 Tuesday night to kick off the final $35,000 leg of CIF's industrial drive.

Others said after the meeting what they could do.

If $62,800 ever did anything for this town, the $62,800 spent by CIF for assisting, locating or financing three local industries and screening dozens more did.

If 200 new jobs, actually 196, if new hospitals, improving schools are not reason enough, if all the pluses you see abounding around us are not enough, well

The additional $35,000 is cheap for what it is doing. Literally thousands of dollars worth of expertise, tens of thousands of dollars worth of time have gone practically for free into the CIF's drive since 1966.

Cameron is getting more than its money's worth. The various skills poured into decisions on these efforts and the resulting insights into what teamwork can do for a town on the move, and Cameron is a town on the move, are impressive.

We join once again CIF fund raisers in asking you to read the record, talk to these men or merely look around you and see what leadership, co-operation and judgment are doing for you, the resident of this community.

Think what Cameron can do with another $750,000 payroll gain in another year or so. It will happen, because this town made it happen and can do it again, in the vernacular, "in spades."

One allusion was made to "not seeing why Cameron couldn't do as well as Bryan or Temple in industrial development and growth." Cameron can. We don't build new downtowns, industry, hospitals and all the rest just for laurels.

Cameron may be just the youngest old town in the Southwest. It pays. It pays. It pays. Check the parked cars at the local plants, new and old. They weren't all there two years ago.

Hanover Homecoming

The annual homecoming at Hanover will be held Sunday, September 27. A picnic lunch at noon will include time for renewing old friendships.

An old fashion singing is planned for all day, and everyone is invited to bring their lunch and come for the day.

United Fund Agency...

Salvation Army Gives Local Aid

(Second in a series of articles about local organizations funded by Cameron United Fund. A drive for $10,050 will start in October.)

The Salvation Army is one of six agencies supported locally by the United Fund. An allocation of $2100 has been made for next year's budget if the UF goal is reached.

Other agencies that will benefit are Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, American Red Cross, USO, and Little League.

Over 500 people, local and transients, were helped by The Salvation Army in Cameron last year, receiving emergency aid.

This past summer, three local boys attended Camp Hoblitzelle, a Salvation Army facility at Midlothian near Dallas. They enjoyed a week-long outing at the modern camp free of charge.

Local services are carried out directly by the Service Unit Committee, which represents The Salvation Army in smaller cities. Help is also available from the state level of The Salvation Army.

Forrest Sapp is chairman of the local Service Unit, which includes representatives from local churches, the county welfare department, and local law enforcement officials.

Of funds allocated, one-third remains with the Service Unit for its local welfare program and two-thirds are reserved for The Salvation Army's broad statewide services in which the local community is entitled to share.

Depending upon the immediate need, the local Service Unit will pay for groceries, lodgings, utility bills, rent, or minor medical or dental expenses.

The Service Unit has provided furniture for families whose homes were destroyed by fire, paid bus fares or bought gas for stranded transients, along with food. Other help included buying school supplies for children whose families were having financial problems.

State Salvation Army services are available for problems that cannot be handled by the Service Unit committee alone. A community truck by a tornado or flood, for example, would need the statewide help of The Salvation Army to get effective relief.

When disaster strikes, The Salvation Army is already there in the presence of officers and/or volunteers in over 550 communities. Thirteen mobile Disaster Relief Canteens, strategically located, are ready to converge on the scene.

There are private matters also that are best handled through inquiry from the Service Unit to the Army's state headquarters. Seeking a missing person or contacting a prisoner up for parole are functions of the Correctional Services and Missing Persons Bureau.

Rehabilitating alcoholics is the life work of the Mne's Social Service Centers and the Harbor Light Center.

One of the Army's finest programs is the care given unwed mothers at the Home and Hospital in San Antonio. Young victims of personal tragedy are helped physically and mentally to return to society with a new, improved outlook on life.

1-1 Yoemen To Host West Trojans Friday

After Friday's trench warfare for the "Bell", the Cameron Yoemen 8 p.m. Friday will recoup the offense for a non-district collision with unbeaten West Trojans.

Winners 28-0 over Waco Relcher and 45-0 over China Springs, the Trojans come to Camerontown with a veteran split-T backfield spirited by halfback Billy Wolf, a break-away runner, and quarterback Charles Placcek, a senior who throws well.

Yoemen Coach Hal Stanislaw says Placcek is the best passer the Yoemen will face this season. His work was evident in the 45-0 white wash of China Springs last Friday night.

The Yoemen are in good shape considering the defensive clash with Rockdale last week. Jerry Richardson is likely to miss the West game, his hip still limiting his moves, and Jack Kirk is also out with a hip injury.

Stanislaw says halfback Ernie De La Rosa has been out of classes with sickness early this week and defensive guard Dale Schigut missed one day of class. Bill Grey also is on the sick list.

And punter Ken McLerran missed practice earlier in the week following "recurring symptoms from a head injury" incurred prior to regular season, Stanislaw said.

The Yoemen headcoach emphasizes West is bringing a club which averages 175 to 200 pounds, but is not the largest team West has introduced at Yo Field.

Cameron will start about the same offensive lineup, barring continued sickness of key starters. A starting lineup for West was unavailable at presstime.

YOEMEN (Offense)

Split end Carroll Michael
LT Jack Raymond
LG Prentiss McGoldrick
C Darrell Schneider
RG Jesse Reyes
RT David Fritz
RE Mike Zajick
QB Robert Brashear
LB Emanuel Thomas
RH Ernie De La Rosa
FB Ed Whitley

Yoemen defense: Cornerbacks Jim Bailey and Ken McLerran, Tackles Joe Lewis and Randy Tumlison (Norman Trubee), guards Dale Schigut and Whitley, linebackers John Bailey and Sam Knight, halfbacks Richard Cummings and Brashear, safety Joe Vacullin.

Six New Wells Due In Cherokee-Navarro

13 Producers Now In South Milam Field

By Lloyd Albertson

Six new wildcats were scheduled for the Cherokee Navarro Field southeast of Milano late last week and application for drilling permits have been filed with the Oil & Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission.

All of the wildcats will be drilled by Byron Rose, a Houston operator, who opened the Cherokee Navarro Field a little less than a year ago when his discovery well, the No. 1 Ray Woods was brought in as a 84 barrel per day producer.

Rose's wildcats will be his No. 1 and No. 2 G. R. Hurt Estate, located on a 230 acre lease in James Welch Survey; No. 1 and No. 2 W. G. Westbrook on a 100 acre tract in B. F. Swoap Survey; No. 1 W. G. Westbrook on a 75.55 acre lease in James Welch Survey; and his No. 1 J. H. Yakasch, located on a 48.96 acre lease in John Williams Survey.

All of the new tests are located near producing wells in the field with the exception of the Yakasch, which is in the southwest extension of the field. However, it is located less than a mile southwest of Rose's No. 3-A Ray Woods and on the same trend, and a similar distance south and a little east of the David M. Thomas No. 1 J. Robert Bailey oilwell.

The two wildcats scheduled for the W. G. Westbrook 100 acre tract are located east of the Ray Woods 160 acre lease and offset the No. 2 and No. 4 Woods. The No. 2 Ray Woods made 101 barrels of oil per day on potential test after sand fract treatment last year.

The third Westbrook wildcat, to be drilled on a 75.55 acre lease, is located west of the Ray Woods tract and offsets a Dave M. Thomas well west of it. Drillsite is staked north of one of the G. R. Hurt Estate wildcats.

Rose's two Hurt Estate wildcats, on a 230 acre lease, are located north of his three wells on the 175 acre Ray Woods tract. His No. 2 also offsets his No. 1 Ray Woods, the discovery well for the Cherokee Navarro Field.

His application for drilling permits confirmed rumors heard recently in the oil patch that Rose was planning to drill five or six new wildcats in the field.

The Cherokee Navarro Field now has thirteen wells. In addition to Byron Rose, other operators are David M. Thomas of Farmington, New Mexico; Victor P. Head of Houston, W. E. Gallaway of New Mexico, and Fred L. Gaines of Houston.

In other drilling activity in south Milam County, Stanley H. Rosenthal, a Bay City operator, reportedly was preparing to drill his No. 1 Earnest L. Noack.

Location of the Noack is on a 595 acre lease in David Houston Survey in the Milam Field. This wildcat was scheduled about three weeks ago.

Break-Ins Net 65 Cents, Jail

Three break-ins Sunday night netted 65 cents, a ring, a watch and a berth in the county jail for a Cameron youth.

Acting City Police Chief Felipe Martinez said he and Sgt. Truman White arrested a 19-year-old suspect at his home Tuesday morning, recovering a wrist watch taken from the Monroe Corbin residence.

Martinez said the Cameron Junior High was entered through a window broken by the burglar and 35 cents was taken from a Coke box in the principal's office. A carton of cigarettes and about 30 cents were taken from the Ebony Club and a wrist watch and ring were taken from the Monroe Corbin residence on Golf Links Avenue.

Fall Arrives With Cool Wind, Rain

Fall was right on time Wednesday morning, with a cool wind from the north blowing in more rain on soggy Central Texas. It was nice, even though some may envy Dumas residents, who saw snow falling Tuesday.

CIF Cites Industries' Impact On Cameron

Cameron Industrial Foundation leaders Tuesday night recapped progress in assisting location of three industries, creation of 200 jobs and reasons for completing a drive for $35,000.

Banker-CIF director Hilliard Thomas detailed the impact of a $750,000 annual payroll created by CIF industrial work, which he said turns $4 million annually in the Cameron area.

Banker-CIF director Lester Williams noted the need for continued teamwork and emphasized the Cameron Industrial Foundation's satisfied need for operating capital will assure continued industrial development.

Gene Blake, head of Cameron Coca-Cola Co., pledged $1,000 at the meeting and other pledges were being discussed following the discussion among some 25 CIF directors, officers and stockholders. About 130 hold stock in CIF.

CIF BOARD PRAISED

The program was chaired by CIF president N. L. Caperton, who emphasized, along with fund drive chairman Bill Burns, the CIF board of about 15 men is the finest committee on which he had served.

CIF secretary-treasurer Henry Siebman itemized the assets of the Foundation and need for operating capital to keep a "going business going."

He noted:

ONE--The 1966 stage of the total $100,000 goal had received 96 percent payment on $66,695 pledged or $62,800.

TWO--The "big picture is not so bad" he said. The Foundation has:
--37 acres of land, valued at $35,500
--Note receivable 15,563
--Railroad spur 4,162
--Billboard 1,200

These assets show $56,400 of the $62,800 paid in by the membership of the non-profit corporation. CIF has a note due for $5,000 and income of about $125 a month on a 15-year note to Hensley-Russell Corp., on part of their new building.

Thomas noted employment among three new industries of 196 jobs, a weekly payroll of about $750,000 spent mostly in Cameron, indirect expansions due to industry at Newton Memorial Hospital (15 new employees) new $1.4 million St. Edward Hospital (20 or more new employees), Cameron Public Schools (132 employees), Elm Creek Farm, a new swine operation, among other community developments.

Williams emphasized this new industry has in fact offset many losses in the cotton economy with what this community has done in three years.

"Nothing can beat a bunch of little industries," assuring a "perpetual spending in town" though one or two may be out at a time, he told the group. And Williams noted what 100 new jobs would do for the community, statistics backed up by what CIF industrial development statistics showed.

Forums On Aging Let Seniors Air Problems, Needs

Attendance has passed 175 at the Community Forums on Aging, currently being held in Milam County.

The third forum was held Tuesday evening at Abiding Savior Lutheran Church in Cameron and the final one in Thordale Wednesday.

The community forums, co-sponsored by the Governor's Committee on Aging and the Texas A&M Extension Service, represent the first step in preparation for the White House Conference on Aging called by President Nixon for 1971.

The meetings were designed to give senior citizens an opportunity to speak out on their basic human needs. Information collected at the local forums will be used as a basis for preparing concrete and specific program objectives.

The Governor's State Conference on Aging will be held in May and community reports will be compiled into a state report, which will be studied at the national White House Conference starting in November, 1971.

'BE GENEROUS'

Burns urged the group to be "generous when someone calls" sometime after the meeting. He said most of his information was given in previous talks. He said goal of the new drive is $35,000 to complete the $100,000 drive begun in 1966.

Thomas noted the "acute housing shortage" which came out of industrial expansion, particularly in rent property. Discussion brought up need for new housing, the question of "open housing" in new construction areas and how modern communities must face such issues to progress.

Program chairman R. W. Wells suggested to the group that "knowledgeable people in the construction business meet with the industrial foundation board and discuss the possibilities for working on the housing problem in Cameron."

Comments also noted need for updating numerous community services as expansion continued in industrial payroll and housing became available. Thomas said mortgage money for housing was becoming more available than a year ago.

Prime interest rate went down a half point during recent days.

Caperton thanked the group for the turnout, lauding Edwin Bigbee, both local banks, Mayor E. A. Perrin and the foundation board for their contributions to the industrial program.

He then adjourned the meeting.

JOHN EANES

John Eanes Dies; Was Volunteer Fireman 36 Years

John Eanes, 60, died at 2:45 p.m. Saturday of an apparent heart attack at his home.

Mr. Eanes was employed at the Milam County Tax Collector's office, where he had been working for the past 24 years.

Mr. Eanes was a member of the Volunteer Fire Department for 36 years, serving as city fire marshal at one time and as president for a number of years.

Born September 12, 1910 in Chriesman, Mr. Eanes had lived in Cameron for 40 years. He was a veteran of World War II.

Funeral service was held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church, the Rev. Alvis Coleman officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife of Cameron; one son, John Eanes Jr., of Rockdale; four brothers, Joe Eanes, Carrol Eanes, Hope Eanes, all of Rockdale, and Vernon Eanes of Cameron; one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McElreath of San Antonio.

Pallbearers were Carl Black, Valter White, Nathan Lewis, Frank Richter Jr., John David Thompson, and Joe Lee Humpalik Jr. Honorary pallbearers were Charles Brady, Bud Kalkbrenner, J. C. Andrea, members of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department, and members of the Men's Bible Class at First Methodist Church.

Your United Fund....

An annual Herald series is underway on the participating agencies in the North Milam United Fund.

These stories tell what the participating agencies do, locally and nationally, with the money North Countians contribute.

Each agency is generally recognized as an important function in the community, including American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Cameron Little League, USO.

It goes without saying Cameron has seldom gone over the top, if ever, for a united fund program. Cameron has done a lot of things well in funding, but this one seems to escape, periodically, the giving.

We might remember that one drive satisfies six functions. Anyone who can remember the proliferation of drives in the 1960's when the United Fund faltered here will remember too many drives.

Each agency concedes the value of one drive. In cities, upto 75 agencies participate in one.

The United Fund drive is a worthy effort. We only remind that it is of service at the local and national levels.

What Others Say...

A Good Place To Be....

Indiana has been a prosperous agricultural state because its farmers have not depended on a single crop but diversified their products.

Industrial prosperity can be traced to a similar balance in our economy. Hoosierland does not depend on two or three giant industries but runs the whole gamut of industrial categories. Consequently, when one class of industry slows down, the shock waves are abated considerably by others still in vigorous operation.

Robert Corya, business editor of The News, presents some interesting facts on this subject. He points out that in the state of Washington and in Seattle, the economy depends largely on Boeing, giant manufacturer of aircraft. Since June, 1968, that company has laid off about 46,000 people, with the likelihood of 10,000 more before Jan. 1.

As a result, unemployment is twice the national level, real estate and new car sales have declined substantially and hotel and motel vacancies are up. The effect is felt in many other activities. It is unlikely such a development could occur in Indiana, where there is no single dominant industry.

"Low Down"

FROM THE
Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

SDS TODAY: AN FBI REPORT

SENATOR JACK R. MILLER (Iowa) "... (This) article ... appeared in the Fordham Law Review. ... entitled, 'A Study in Marxist Revolutionary Violence.' ...

This authoritative article is MUST READING for parents of students and students attending or about to attend college." (The condensed article by J. Edgar Hoover,

Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, follows.)

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY
"We're not communist inspired. We're communists. Corrupt, evil and it (our system of government) should be destroyed, in fact smashed."

This quotation reflects the existence in America today of a small group of individuals, primarily college students, who are working for the overthrow of our democratic institutions.

The history of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is brief--spanning a scant seven years. Actually, SDS as we know it today was born at a convention of a mere handful of students meeting at Port Huron, Michigan, in 1962.

Following the Port Huron convention, SDS leaders returned to their respective campuses and embarked on an ambitious organizing campaign with the primary objective of "radicalizing" the students.

The 1968-1969 academic year saw SDS violence on many campuses, including the conviction of an SDS member at a Midwestern university under the federal sabotage statute for attempting to bomb a Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) building on campus. In April, 1969, Cameron David Bishop, an SDS member, was placed on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) "Ten Most Wanted" list of criminal fugitives. Bishop was charged with sabotage in the dynamiting of power transmission towers in Colorado.

The whole concept of violence was tragically emphasized in a recent issue of SDS's NEW LEFT NOTES.

read: "With a defiant smile, 5-year-old, ... shows how he placed a 25-pound concrete slab on the tracks and wrecked a passenger train."

In discussing the SDS (or any other type of extremism) we must be careful of our facts and not indiscriminately label those whom we do not personally like, or whose opinions are unpopular as extremists. The genuine hard core radical on campus must be distinguished from the legitimate protester.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

SDS is no college fraternity or sorority bent on an exercise in political science. Genuine liberals have long since pulled out.

For the complete text of the article and the FBI report you are referred to issue No. 153 of the Congressional Record.—J.C.

Platforms Outline Goals For Republicans, Demos

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN State Republican and Democratic parties have put their appeals to Texas voters in writing -- via the platforms drafted at their separate conventions last week.

Democrats, party veterans said repeatedly, "wrote the most progressive planks ever."

Republicans put the emphasis on attacking crime, campus disorders and drug use.

Highlights of the Democratic statement of party goals include:

"A far-reaching vocational technical education program, repeal of annual voter registration requirements and substitution of 'registration by voting' every four years, opposition to a tax on groceries, a minimum foundation program for policemen with state standards of qualification and pay, state civil service, expansion of unemployment insurance benefits.

"Increase in workmen's compensation benefits, creation of a public utilities regulatory commission, establishment of an office of consumer protection, elimination of the $80 million a year welfare outlay ceiling, an increase in minimum wage, sweeping insurance reforms and creation of a state management research commission to promote governmental efficiency.

Republican platform highlights are:

"Legislation to end discrimination in state government employment and to insure equal pay for equal work, creation of single member legislative districts, realistic technical and vocational courses commencing at junior high school level and offered in nearly all high schools, condemnation of forced busing of students to achieve racial balance.

"Opposition to a tax on groceries, later voter registration deadlines, inclusion of all insurance company income in calculating auto insurance rates, admission of oral confessions in trials, and life sentence without parole for murdering a policeman.

AFL-CIO "BACKS" DEMOS
Following the conventions, Texas AFL-CIO leaders "urged" support by labor of all statewide candidates of the Democratic party in the general election.

Decision, AFL-CIO President H. S. (Hank) Brown explained, left union members free to do as they pleased, since there was no formal "endorsement" carrying monetary support or mandatory vote.

Big labor's hang-up was in the U. S. Senate race. Some union spokesmen were reluctant to back Democrat Lloyd Bentsen but were likewise unenthusiastic about Republican candidate George Bush.

Committee of Political Education (COPE) gave "special recognition" to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Agriculture Commissioner John White and Land Commissioner nominee Bob Armstrong.

MIXED DRINK STUDY
Alcoholic Beverage Commission directed its staff to study liquor - by - the - drink laws before the mixed drink constitutional amendment is voted on November 3.

ABC officials expressed concern that the liquor - by - the - drink law, if approved by the voters and Legislature, be tightly enforced.

Meanwhile, "Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws," sponsors of the liquor - by - the - drink amendment, announced a statewide publicity and advertising campaign to put over its amendment.

"Texans Who Care" organization will conduct an opposition campaign.

OIL ALLOWABLE UP

Texas Railroad Commission bumped the state oil allowable for October to 87 per cent of potential.

This would be the highest since January, 1949. Increase was granted on the understanding of strict compliance with the order directing record allowable.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Texas Employment Commission has called attention to a new federal law which will result in the biggest single increase in worker coverage since the federal - state program began.

An estimated 400,000 Texas workers will be covered, and 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance tax beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Federal law provides for payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximum of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. Federal government will pay half the extended benefits -- once regular benefits are exhausted.

Bill also makes more jobholders eligible for benefits, makes more employers subject to insurance tax and increases the federal unemployment insurance tax paid by employers who already are covered by the law. About 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to the coverage in Texas. These organizations employ four or more in 20 weeks of the current or preceding calendar year, and have the option of paying taxes or reimbursing the state for benefits paid.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:
Somebody who didn't sign his name has sent me a clipping from a newspaper -- I don't care whether his name is signed or not but it looks like it'd been just as easy to send me the whole paper -- with a note asking me what I thought about it.

The clipping reported that the Women's Liberation Movement is complaining because the Weather Bureau gives female names to hurricanes. In fact, they were doing more than complaining, they were raising Ole Ned about it.

"Would like to see what you have to say about this," the anonymous note said.

He, or maybe she, has come to the right source if a fair and impartial answer is wanted, as hurricanes and women are two things I'm no authority on.

However, there are certain characteristics about both a person is bound to detect.

For example, the Weather Bureau will report Hurricane Felice say is headed for a certain point on the coast, reporters and TV people rush there, and an hour later Felice has changed her mind and gone in another direction. You never know where she's going or when she's going to arrive. In the entire history of hurricanes, nobody has ever been able to predict one with any dependability. In the entire history of women, ... And why do they refer to it as a tropical disturbance before it becomes a full-fledged woman, I mean hurricane?

I don't want to get tangled up with the Women's Liberation Movement, but would it seem right reading that Tropical Disturbance Albert is headed toward the mainland? Or to take protection against Hurricane Teddy?

No. Celia. Felice. ... such feminine names just sound more accurate and ominous than Thomas and Donald.

However, on the other hand, there are some male characteristics about hurricanes. For example, you have to clean up after them.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Test Tube Democracy

Think of television networks and jet transportation, and the United States will appear to be one vast, interconnected unit.

But think of traffic laws and fishing regulations and the real estate taxes and grounds for divorce, and the United States will appear to be a jumble of diversities.

Such diversities can be confusing. But they are also rewarding in a way that is too often overlooked. Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis once put the matter as follows:

"It is one of the happy incidents of the federal system that a single courageous state may, if its citizens choose, serve as a laboratory; and try novel social and economic experiments without risk to the rest of the country."

This advantage of diversity is not the least bit theoretical. On the contrary, there are countless examples of one state leading the way, trying out a new idea, while other states wait and see how it works--very much like a scientist watching an experiment in a test tube.

For instance: is it a good idea to give the customers of door-to-door salesmen a "cooling-off period," during which they may reconsider and cancel the order?

Some say this would protect the gullible buyer from high-pressure salesmanship. Others say it would put an unfair burden on the legitimate firms engaged in this field. A number of states are now putting the idea to a test.

Or: is it a good idea for the state to pay compensation to the victims of violent crime?

Some say this would be fulfilling a moral obligation of the state. Others say it would be just another costly boondoggle. Several states are now trying it out.

Of course, no two states are exactly alike. Lawmakers, considering a new program, will weigh local conditions and consult local opinion. Yet, they will also be influenced by finding out what actually happened when the idea was tried in a sister state.

"The science of government," said an earlier Supreme Court, "is the science of experiment."

The State Insurance Board has issued a warning to insurance companies that refuse to write or renew fire, homeowners or automobile policies.

In a letter to Rep. Dan Kubiak's office, Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten said many insurance firms have adopted procedures that prohibit the writing of new business and seriously restrict the renewal of existing policies.

Cotten's directive to all fire and casualty companies operating in Texas said this has worked an "extreme hardship on Texans and is completely contrary to the public interest," Rep. Kubiak said in his newsletter.

"The commissioner has informed us that he has taken steps so that if a company refuses to obey a renewal order, it can have its license revoked to do business in the State of Texas," Kubiak said.

"Many of our constituents who have paid insurance all of their lives have been hurt and when the first claim has been filed, find themselves without insurance. This will be corrected immediately and we request that any person who has a recent cancellation inform our office so that proper steps may be taken," he said.

ABSENTEE VOTING

Any qualified Texas voter eligible to cast an absentee ballot by mail may now make application to this county clerk for an absentee ballot for the Nov. 3 general election.

In order to vote absentee by mail in this election, a voter must be unable to appear Nov.

3 at the polling place because of sickness or physical disability; or expect to be absent from his county of residence on Nov. 3 and during the county clerk's office hours throughout the absentee voting period beginning October 14 and ending October 30. Details about absentee voting procedure may be obtained from Kubiak's office in Rockdale or from the county clerk's office in Cameron.

Rep. Kubiak reminded voters of the seven proposed amendments on the ballot, and the election of a U. S. Senator, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, all the members of the House and one-third of the members of the Senate.

Voter registration in Texas this year hit an all-time high of 4,150,645, he said.

New Certification Plan For Swine

By J. D. Moore

A new plan for adjusting data to a standard weight, and new standards have been adopted for the all-breed meat certification program, according to officials of the National Association of Swine Records. The new plan will be in effect on all pigs farrowed after January 1, 1970 according to Frank Oris, Meats Specialist at A&M.

Pigs weighing from 200 to 240 pounds will be eligible for slaughter under the program, and all data will be adjusted to 220 pounds on the basis of conversion factors worked out by a committee of the association.

The committee recommendations were adopted by the breed secretaries with only one change. The committee had recommended reducing the backfat limit from 1.5 inches in the old standards to 1.4 but the limit was returned to 1.5 inches, which is actually a reduction since previously a pig weighing 200 pounds could have 1.5 inches but now the standard will be 1.5 inches adjusted to 220 pounds.

The new standards, which each pig in a pair slaughtered for certification will be required to make, on an adjusted basis, for a litter to be designated as a certified litter, are as follows:

Days to 220 pounds - 180 days maximum

Length - 29.5 inches minimum

Backfat - 1.5 inches maximum

Loin Eye Area - 4.5 inches minimum

Conversion factors for adjusting to a 220 pound basis will be:

Days to 220 pounds - 2 pounds per day

Length - 0.025 inches per pound

Backfat - 0.004 inches per pound

Loin Eye Area - 0.015 square inches per pound

A slide scale showing the minimum standards at the varying weights from 200 to 240 pounds for both a certified litter and a superior certified litter is available at the county agent's office.

CLEAN-UP REGULATIONS

The Texas Department of Agriculture's Pink Bollworm Quarantine rules including the revisions are on file in the county agent's office.

Briefly, the planting dates for cotton in Milam county are March 20 to May 31. All cotton plants must be destroyed by midnight of November 30. Said destruction may be accomplished by plowing under the cotton stalks or destroying them by use of a rotary stalk shredder.

Cotton stalks standing in any field from November 30 to March 30, shall not be within the authorization conferred within the law, and, therefore, shall be in violation of the Texas Pink Bollworm Law.

Each land owner in said county and his tenant, agent or lessee, if any, of said land, shall be jointly and/or severally responsible for conducting cotton production as provided herein, and for any act or omission on said land not within the authorization conferred herein and in violation of the law.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

The approximately 90,000 4-H Club members in Texas will join their counterparts throughout the Nation in the observance of 4-H Club Week, Oct. 4-10. Governor Preston Smith has officially proclaimed 4-H Week in Texas and urges all citizens to support this worthwhile youth organization.

Prussic Acid Is A Threat In Certain Fall Pastures

COLLEGE STATION

Hybrid sorghum - sudan pastures, fast growing and excellent forage, can also be deadly, especially during the late summer and fall.

The breakdown of the sorghum's plant material by its own enzymes results in prussic acid poisoning for the animals which eat the plant material, Dr. John C. Reagor, toxicologist for the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, says.

The actual agent causing death is hydrogen cyanide, the same chemical used in state gas chambers for executions, he adds.

"There are two times during which poisoning occurs," Dr. Reagor explained. "After frost, where there is damage to the plants, high levels of hydrogen cyanide are very common in the plants."

"The second case is when plants perk up and begin fast growth after a very dry period during which the plants have been burned up."

State Fair Visitors Can 'See' Berlin

A guided sight-seeing tour of the fascinating walled city of Berlin will be available to State Fair of Texas visitors while they enjoy interesting sights in the Berlin Goodwill Pavilion at the Fair, Oct. 10-25 in Dallas.

The pavilion is a touring exhibit which has previously appeared in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Featuring unusual architecture both inside and out, with 20 huge air-filled balloons covering the roof area, the pavilion is one of the free exhibits at the State Fair of Texas, and can be enjoyed daily from 10 a.m. til 10 p.m.

The hydrogen cyanide is very volatile and therefore stays in the plants for only a very short time, but while it is present, animals must be kept off the pasture, he said.

"Usually, if a severe outbreak occurs, cows exhibiting symptoms when the veterinarian is called, will be dead before he can arrive," Dr. Reagor said. "He will probably be able to save only those which are still breathing after he arrives."

Hay that is improperly cured can also present prussic acid poisoning problems for a short time, Dr. Reagor noted adding that the blood of poisoned animals will be cherry red.

Dr. Reagor also urged farmers to be on the lookout for nitrate poisoning that may occur during the late fall on winter pastures when there is a lot of cloudy weather.

"The plants, instead of growing and changing nitrates into protein, just accumulate the nitrates," Dr. Reagor said. "Animals must also be taken off these pastures until the plants have had a chance to grow and convert the nitrates to protein."

Dr. Reagor noted that the blood of animals that have died from nitrate poisoning will be chocolate brown, just the opposite from those dying from prussic acid poisoning.

TEXAS SENIOR CITIZENS

Texas Senior Citizens during the week of Sept. 20, will participate in more than 600 Community Forums, speaking out on their needs. Minnie Bell, Extension specialist in family life education - aging, said the forums are the beginning of the 1971 White House Conference for Aging.

Airplane service was begun between New York and Chicago in 1919.

WHOSE FARM IS THIS? - The Herald still has some of the aerial photos of Milam County farms and ranches taken in 1958. The photos are unidentified, so we invite our readers who recognize a place shown to come in and claim the picture - no charge.

Time To Plant Cool Season Legumes, Grain

Recent rains in the Cameron and Rockdale area have provided the moisture that was needed for the early planting of winter legumes and small grain.

In order to get maximum production, the cool season legumes and small grain should be planted as soon as possible.

Many of the cooperators of both the Taylor and Central Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts are ready to plant as soon as the fields are dry enough for them to get in. Some still have some seedbed preparation to complete and a few had just finished "dry planting" their small grain when the rains came.

Adequate fertilization is another must for maximum production. Fertilizer should be applied according to a soil analysis.

Legumes and small grain can be an important part of a conservation cropping system when properly managed. They provide cover for the soil during periods when the major crops do not furnish adequate cover.

Financial assistance is available for the establishment of winter legumes through the Milam County ASCS and technical assistance is available from the local Soil Conservation Service in Cameron.

LOVEGRASS

During the past few years several thousand acres of weeping lovegrass and ermelo lovegrass have been planted in the Cameron area of the Taylor and Central Texas Soil Conservation Districts. Most of the cooperators who have planted it are using the grass for winter grazing.

Now is the time to apply fertilizer to the lovegrass in order for it to make adequate and fresh growth for the livestock to use during the winter months.

For more information on the management and use of lovegrass, contact one of the SCS technicians in Cameron.

STATE HAY SHOW

The State Hay Show will be held Oct. 30 at the Northline Shopping Center, Houston Extension Agronomist Neal Pratt says any hay producer is eligible to compete. Entries should be submitted by Oct. 1 in order to permit time for forage analysis, he said. An afternoon program will cover such subjects as harvesting methods, forage analysis, and winter pastures for stocker calves.

The U.S. postage stamp was approved in 1847.

Farmers and ranchers doing conservation cost - sharing work under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) are asked to keep careful track of the date they are to report the completed work.

It is important that the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee have a report on hand by the time the work is to be completed. The funds allocated for the job are not supposed to be tied up past that date unless they have been earned.

Usually there are more applications on file than there are cost-share funds available for ACP practices, and it is not right for the Committee to keep funds set aside for a practice when it is not known whether the farmer has installed it or not.

If a farmer is not able to complete his conservation work before the completion date, he may ask for a time extension by phoning, writing, or visiting the Milam County ASCS Office. Time extensions should be requested before the practice completion date.

Sometimes a person misplaces the form which he is supposed to sign and send or bring to the County ASCS Office when his ACP work is done. In that case, he should phone or write to say the work was completed and then drop by at his convenience to sign a duplicate form kept on file at the County Office.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Danny Phillips

HORSE SURVEY SENT OUT

Recently a survey was sent out to sample feelings about starting a new 4-H Horse club for beginners. In this club, 4-Hers will be given practical and fun experiences in horse care and training.

Recreational activities will make up a portion of the program to let 4-Hers share ideas and get together in fun activities.

If you would have interest in such a club, please contact me at the county agents office in the basement of the Post Office. Joining 4-H can be fun.

TIME TO GET SHOW PIGS

Anyone interested in showing pigs in the county show or major shows next spring should be making contacts and buying show prospects now.

There are still a lot of good pigs available throughout this area. If any 4-H'er is interested in finding a pig, feel free to contact me anytime and let's get some good pigs going for next year.

If he has misplaced the form and does not remember his completion date, all he has to do is get in touch with the County ASCS Office - someone will look it up for him.

Occasionally circumstances prevent a farmer from installing his approved ACP conservation practice. The County Committee is always sorry to hear it, but appreciates hearing it in time to re-allocate the funds. It is a good - neighbor deed to let the ASCS Office know as soon as possible, because it might mean giving another farmer a chance to put in a needed conservation practice this year.

Texas Stock Goes To Mexico

AUSTIN

Commissioner John C. White reports that Texas Department of Agriculture personnel have helped groups from Mexico recently complete buying about $112,000 worth of cattle and about 1,200 head of sheep and goats from Texas ranchers.

Two other groups from Mexico are due in Texas soon to complete negotiations for purchase of 480 hogs and 80 Holstein cows, valued at about $70,000.

Texas Department of Agriculture marketing specialists, Ernesto DeLeon, Darryl McDonald, and Dick Kleymeyer have helped and will help in the transactions.

The cattle, purebred Brahmas and horned Herefords, were bought from ranchers in the Seguin and Waco areas, Commissioner White said, and the Rambouillet and Suffolk sheep were bought in the San Angelo and other West Texas areas.

Four hundred Angora goats were bought in the Rock Springs area.

The animals were bought for two or three ranches in Mexico and for the Mexican government in that country's continuing program of developing better breeding stock, the Commissioner said.

Commissioner White said that Mexican buyers credited the "Directorio de Ganaderia del Estado de Texas" ("Directory of Livestock of the State of Texas") with being of great help in locating the livestock they bought in Texas.

The directory is published by the Texas Department of Agriculture and is printed in both Spanish and English. It gives information about beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, goats, horses and hogs and those who have them for sale.

Electricity:
mysterious wonder-worker

It has no weight. No shape. You can't see it. But harness electricity and put it to work, and you can have towns that glow at night . . . power for industry . . . movies and TV . . . air conditioned homes and freezers full of ice cream.

And TP&L brings you all the electric power you need to work these wonders! With plenty more coming up for the future. More than 1,500,000 kilowatts are due from new generating units within the next three years.

On hand with power a-plenty, 24 hours a day - that's TP&L! With a reliability made even greater by its membership in the Texas Interconnected System . . . a vast, automatic source of instant emergency power available to any member needing it.

Gause News

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

It seems to have been a quiet week around here -- not much coming and going. Everyone just stayed home and enjoyed the nice rains we have had.

I came home from the hospital Thursday and am having to get around a little slower but, seem to be recovering nicely.

I certainly want to thank Kay for doing the column for me last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hull spent the weekend at their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Koye Cass visited Mrs. Ella Cass at the nursing home in Cameron Sunday evening.

Mr. John Kunchick of Waco recently visited several days here with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Young and other friends.

Mr. J. A. Young quietly celebrated his 92nd birthday Monday September 14. All his children sent birthday wishes and gifts in advance.
Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bowling of Houston spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harlan and visited other relatives. They have been on vacation in the Hill Country, around Kerrville.

Mrs. Harold Neal of Milano and Mrs. Douglas Pierce, Tammy and Samantha of McDade visited during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lee, Craig, Kelly and Lance.

Sgt. and Mrs. Wade Maxwell of Mainz, Germany are the parents of a daughter born August 30th. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Tidwell of El Paso. Great grandmothers are Mrs. Laura Ward and Mrs. Ella Cass.

East Texas - Oilman's Dream

(Ed Note: Following is the first in a 3-part series on the fabulous East Texas oil field discovery and the early years of that oil boom and the lawless era that followed.)

DALLAS--The discovery of the East Texas field, which celebrated its 40th anniversary September 5, was an oilman's dream. It was huge--the largest oil field in the world at the time--lying in parts of Cherokee, Gregg, Rusk, Smith, and Upshur counties in the pine-covered hills of East Texas. It was relatively shallow, only 3,600 feet.

Its massive reservoir sands contained a pool of oil 120 feet deep in the thickest part. Approximately 60 per cent of this oil is underlain by salt water under a tremendous pressure. This tremendous body of water pushed oil upwards to make the East Texas wells flow oil without expensive pumps or other artificial lift equipment. Under present reinjection of water to maintain the pressure a reservoir of this type can be expected to yield 90 per cent of its oil. The well has produced 3,901,226,217 barrels of oil. Its 2 billion barrels of remaining oil represent 16 per cent of Texas reserves and 7 per cent of U. S. reserves.

East Texas oil was of a preferred gravity of 38.0-39.8 degrees, rich in light hydrocarbons and yielding as much as 80 per cent gasoline--petroleum's No. 1 product.

Columbus Marion "Dad" Joiner, who discovered the field on September 5, 1930, was flying in the face of most geologists of the time who had condemned the area as having little chance of oil production. And as it turned out, Joiner only touched the east edge of the field with his well. Then he held onto leases on the wrong side--selling his acreage on the west side to H. L. Hunt for $30,000 cash, $45,000 in notes, and $1,260,000 in oil production payments. Joiner invested much of this money in drilling

Roads were clogged as hundreds came to see the Joiner well. When the production test was made October 3, 1930, a crowd estimated at somewhere between 4,000 and 8,000 people were on hand for the momentous event.

It all began here. C. M. "Dad" Joiner (third from left) shakes hand of Dr. A. D. Lloyd, his geologist, in front of the No. 3 Daisy Bradford, discovery well of the East Texas oil field. Ed Laster, second from right, was the drilling contractor. Behind him (with cigar and in white shirt) is H. L. Hunt. The crew (left to right) are J. Sistrunk, James Hunt, D. Hughes, Glenn Pool, J. P. Maxwell, and on extreme right, W. A. Kirkland, driller.

dry holes on his acreage which wasn't in the field. He died in Dallas on March 27, 1947, in little more than comfortable circumstances.

However, his old discovery well, the No. 3 Daisy Bradford, is still there. Hunt Oil Company maintains it for sentimental reasons and occasionally pumps a little oil from it. The well made 325 barrels of oil in 1969. Its last yield was a couple of barrels in July of this year. Cumulative production is 98,682 barrels.

The well's position of the east side of the field proved costly to Joiner, who misread the direction of the oil play, but it has assured the well's long life. Water is being injected on the west side of the field driving the oil to the east side. The old well -- though no longer economical -- will probably be able to produce until the last recoverable barrel of oil is taken from the East Texas field.

Columbus Marion "Dad" Joiner, discoverer of the East Texas oil field, was 70 years old when he discovered the biggest oil field in the world.

Classroom Teachers Assn. Meets

The Cameron Classroom Teachers Association met in the Cameron Junior High School Library on September 14. Mrs. Kay Minter, President of the Association, presided. Other officers for 1970-71 include: Rae Kosel, vice - president; Susan Rosson, secretary; Thomas Dusek, treasurer; De Lane Yager, parliamentarian; and Linda Morgan, reporter.

Mrs. Minter appointed the following committees for 1970-71: Program - Rae Kosel, Linda Morgan, Willyne Stanislaw, Pat Short and Peggy Dyer; Social - Dian Gerick, Cheryl McQueen, Wanda Coleman and Darlene Coufal; Teacher Welfare - Cecil Anderson, Ada Margaret Smith and Barbara Walker; Legislative Committee - Patsy Edmonds, Minnie Ola Devine and Ernie Laurence.

Also: Nominating - Naomi Zajack, Bobby Carter, Annette McCullin and Viola Biggs; Membership - Frances Hensley, Nadine Zelisko and Patsy Nance; Public Relations - Seth Dockery, Johnny Reeves, Willie Henderson and Fred Johns.

The members saw a film entitled "Spirit Get The Word." The next meeting will be held on October 13. At this meeting new teachers, administration and the school board members will be honored.

October Meeting Set For County Teachers

The Milam County Teachers Association will meet Tuesday, October 6 at 8 p.m. in the Rockdale High School band hall.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Leon Douglas, field representative for the Texas State Teachers Association.

Douglas attended West Texas State College where he received his bachelor's degree and master's degree in education. Before joining the staff of TSTA, he served as a classroom teacher in junior and senior high school, and as a high school principal.

Douglas has membership in national, state, and local professional organizations, and has also worked closely with local and district organizations.

Rural Housing Up

Rural people are moving into new and improved homes at a 17.4 per cent higher rate than a year ago, reports the Farmers Home Administration. Average house financed through this agency has modern facilities, three bedrooms and costs between $12,000 and $13,000.

House Boom Seen

One-family home building will push ahead of apartments again in three to five years, say the forecasters. Why? Because half of all Americans are under 26, and they're expected to start a new baby boom.

Candidates Say...

Bentsen

U. S. Senate candidate Lloyd Bentsen believes it is time for the nation to "Get Tough" in its fight against crime and drug abuse, with reform of the Federal Court system getting a high priority.

The Democratic nominee has proposed a constitutional amendment requiring that every Federal Judge be reconfirmed by the Senate after every 10 years of service. It would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to remove a Judge from office but Bentsen noted that Federal Judges now receive lifetime appointments and are not answerable to anyone.

"We are going to reduce the crime rate only when more people demonstrate a greater respect for the law, when we correct the injustices in society which breed crime and when we are willing to make the reforms necessary to do a better job in fighting crime," Bentsen declared.

"We have an emergency problem now in a lot of our courts," He said. "We have let many of them become so clogged with litigation that it sometimes takes years for a final decision to be reached in a case."

"And yet we know that there is no better deterrent to wrongdoing than the sureness of swift justice," He said. "The war against crime can never succeed if we do not improve the administration of justice."

"I purpose that the Congress create 100 special district courts, on a temporary basis, to get these dockets cleaned up so that it will not take several years to get a final decision in a criminal case," Bentsen said.

Bentsen said he feels that the performance of Federal Judges should be evaluated every 10 years because the American people deserve a working judiciary.

"And I think the evidence shows that in too many cases they're not getting what they deserve," He said. "A Judge can be highly competent, or incompetent. He can be a hard worker and keep his docket in order, or he can be lazy. Whatever he is, he is answerable to no one under the present system."

Bentsen also is urging compulsory treatment for narcotics addicts and stringent measures against suppliers in other countries.

Bush

Congressman George Bush said last week that Texas voters will not "fall for the phony vote-the - straight - ticket line" when choosing their next Senator this November.

"All the polls show the Texas voter being more independent," Bush said. "Clearly, today's Texas voter will not fall for the phony 'vote - the - straight - ticket, let someone else think for you' line."

Rep. Bush is the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate. The Houston Congressman said that Texans will vote for the man they feel can be more effective in Washington.

"This is a new decade," Bush said. "Voters are tired of the old. The old answers will not do. The old 'vote the straight' clichés will not do. The old way of doing things isn't good enough for the 70's."

The country is calling out for social fair play, for sound economic answers and for constructive change, Bush said, "but change within the 'can-do' Texas philosophy."

Bush noted that he supports programs in Congress to decentralize the government, to reform ethics, and to "pry out of the Senate" strong crime legislation.

Rep. Bush was critical of persons who attack the President purely for political reasons. "When President Johnson was President I voted my convictions," Bush said. "I voted against his national programs on many occasions, but I never attacked the President or tried to add to the personal burden of the Presidency."

"I don't believe Texans want a man in the Senate who for pure party politics will kick the President of the U.S.A. as he tries to solve our country's tough national problems," he said.

"I will support the President when he is right," Bush said, "and I will oppose him when he is wrong. But I will not kick the President. I simply will not do it."

Eggers

The following is a statement by Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for Governor, made Tuesday at the opening of the Tarrant County Eggers Campaign Headquarters in Fort Worth.

"I am deeply concerned about the sharp upturn in Texas' crime rate this year."

"The latest report from the Department of Public Safety warns that during the first six months of 1970 a major crime was committed every 60 seconds. When I discussed this issue in 1968, the D.P.S. report showed that a major crime was committed every 90 seconds."

"This upsurge is an unfortunate fact of today's life, but we can do something about it. Crime, however, is not fought with sugar-coated pills and inaction by the government."

"I am convinced that one positive approach to solving our crime problem is to allow our judges to impose real life sentences. Under the present law a life prisoner can become eligible for parole within 20 years and with maximum credit for good behavior he can become eligible in only 12 years. These 'good time' credits are the most liberal of any state in the union."

"It should be possible to impose real life sentences to protect our society from the small but extremely dangerous number of violent criminals. If there are extenuating circumstances, however, it would still be possible to correct an error through executive clemency."

"As governor, I will not tolerate the coddling of hardened criminals and will seek legislation that will permit genuine life sentences in Texas."

Channel 9 Introduces Ed Series

"Sashays in American Literature" and "Geography for the Seventies," two new instructional series for secondary students, are being broadcast for the first time during the 1970-71 school year over KLRN-TV, Channel 9, according to Mrs. Myrtle Boyce, director of instructional programming.

Dr. Karl Ames, associate professor of English at the University of Texas at Austin, is the television teacher for "Sashays in American Literature," a series of 15 lectures designed to serve as somewhat light-footed "side-trips" to seek out thoughts and themes the student might not normally encounter down the main course of American literature.

The course will deal with many facets of American culture that are often of necessity neglected in the classroom -- folklore as well as American humor and American names.

The series begins September 24 and will be seen throughout the school year on alternate Thursdays, every hour, beginning at 8:50 a.m. and ending at 2:50 p.m.

Richard G. Boehm, television teacher for "Geography in the Seventies," presently teaches geography at Southwest Texas State University. The 15 programs in the course comprise a selection of critical topics of interest and concern to world geography students during the decade of the '70's.

Each program is a visual treatment of geographic areas of modern global life which influence present and future earth populations, with strong emphasis on the issues of pollution and conservation.

"Geography in the Seventies" will be seen on alternate Tuesdays, starting September 22, with broadcasts every hour, 8:50 a.m. - 2:50 p.m.

Both series are productions of KLRN-TV.

Fall Coats Play The Fake Skin Game

VESTED INTEREST—Nanman lets you play the fake skin game close to the chest in this dashing mini coat. It's done with a python-grained vinyl vest and matching coat buttons. The detachable vest is belted high on the water-repellent coat to highlight the long sweep of skirt.

Conservationists take note: coats take a hide-bound attitude for fall, 1970, but they go to great lengths to conserve wild life by playing a skin-game that's purely fake. Winning skins in the fashion game are cottons that look like lizard, snake, crocodile, ocelot, leopard, tiger, calf, buck, and pony—you name it and you can find its equivalent in cotton.

The fake skins turn up in vinyl-coated cotton prints that are richly grained in reptile patterns or in soft cotton suedes, ribless corduroys, and velveteens with authentic-looking pelt markings.

Style-wise, the standard topper for fall is the reed-slim mini coat that offers practical protection against the cold. Most are belted for a long, slim look... some take over-vests for added interest.

It's a season when fashion offers options and hemlines, of course, are among the most obvious choices.

Besides the mini, coats show up in lengths that hover around the knee... a few inches above or below. Even minis are still in evidence for those who prefer to take the shorter view of fashion.

Other options include single vs. double-breasted stylings, and capes or ponchos instead of coats.

THE SKIN GAME—Coats take a hide-bound attitude for fall, as evidenced in this mini that looks like real snakeskin. Made from reptile-printed cotton covered with vinyl, the coat is waterproof and can be dry-cleaned. A wide black belt accents the Smart Maid of California design.

THE SHORTER VIEW—Cotton suede with shadings that make it look like authentic animal hide is the choice for a casual mini-length coat in 1970's soft, unconstructed look. In chamois, antelope, or brown, it comes with a matching hat and bag. Styled by Winett of California.

Book Review Is Program For BPW

The Cameron Business and Professional Womens Club met Monday at the Clubhouse, Milam and 4th St.

Mrs. Bill Hartley presented the program, a review of the book "Run Baby, Run" by Dr. Wilkerson. It is the life story of Micky Cruz.

After a short business meeting the hostesses, Mrs. Willie Faulkner and Mrs. Mary Houston, served a sandwich plate and dessert to the nine members and four visitors: Mrs. Adelaide Bickett, Mrs. Cass Walden, Mrs. Florence Markham and Mrs. Hartley.

Dear Duckie:

Thanks for the joke clippings. You know the kind of humor I appreciate; I especially like the one about the waitress and her "synonym" toast. There's something very endearing to me about the people who are gifted with a talent for getting the wrong word in the right place or making up their own words to suit.

Our own darling Betty used to make the most startling words by simple transpositions: "de-inkinate" for disintegrate, "de-winklent" for delinquent, "crim-linal" for criminal, "upcom-mance" for comeuppance, and on and on. I used to call her "my favorite word factory" now that she's grownup she usually gets her words in order. Some of the joyful expectancy has gone out of listening to her speak.

Remember Marcy? She used to be a real mistress of the best syllable. Telling me about her Sunday School lesson, she said, "We studied about people of different religions: Jews and Muslims and Buddhists and 'morons'." Then she went on to say she'd heard the young associate minister was going back to the "cemetery." I guess seminary is tough, but it can't be that bad!

I love people who wear "stimulated" pearls and have relatives living in "Albert Turkey," New Mexico. Also those who hate clothes trimmed with "sequenc-es" and don't care for shopping at "Nelma's Market." Bless the refreshing young mother whose child is so energetic he's like a human "domino." All these dear folk are far more interesting to hear than speakers who are stodgily correct.

A dear little lady I met in a laundromat advised me never to put my underthings in the dryer. "It ruins the 'lastivity'."

I'll vote for that word; it covers the situation as well as - and more colorfully than - "elasticity."

The only way a cliché can keep from being a cliché is to be something else. Sometimes the "something else" makes just as much sense, besides being fresher. The ancient expression, "I didn't know him from Adam's off ox" lasted long past the time of oxen, on or off. It sounded much snappier the way our neighbor said it: "I didn't know him from Adam's old fox." Cousin Zelma improved it further when she didn't know someone from "Adam's apple."

Two clichés became one big mess when the unsympathetic philosopher advised an errant friend, "You've buttered your bread; now you'll just have to lie in it." I can't remember who said it, but isn't that choice?

If all these people could "con-jagate" there would be a grand gathering. Perhaps outsiders would say they were "unmentally balanced" from the heat, but I'd insist that "It's not the heat; it's the humanity..." or perhaps the "humid relativity."

Remember God loves you, and have a good week.

Love,

Mama

Yoe FHA Has First Meeting

The Yoe FHA Chapter held its first meeting Monday night in the Yoe High gym, with activities starting at 7 p.m.

Chapter officers elected last May are: Dianne Lucko, president; Vonda Chandler, vice-president; Jenny Cryer, secretary; Judy Nelson, treasurer; Virgie Hardean, sergeant-at-arms; Kathy Matula, parliamentarian; Helen Townsend, song leader; Joanne Miller, pianist.

At the meeting Monday night, Carolyn Perkins was elected historian and Barbara Marburger, reporter.

During the meeting it was decided to divide the chapter into the Junior Chapter, which will consist of new members, and the Senior Chapter, for girls who have been members for two or more years.

Newly elected officers for the Junior Chapter are Leslie Perkins, president; Cindy Clark, vice president; Debra Dunn, secretary; Carmen Bennett, treasurer; Marion Rosemond, historian; Sharon Harwell, reporter; Alice Brooks, sergeant-at-arms; Joan Bean, parliamentarian; Verna Jones, song leader; Connie Williams, pianist.

It's The Mini-Midi-Maxi Way

The mini is alive and well—but, then so are the midi and the maxi. It's a hair-length wardrobe to match today's way of life—swingin' and carefree. And, hair can do anything a wig can do!

The three different hair styles made to order for the mini-midi-maxi looks are the result of the third annual Breck Hair Styling Contest. The panel decided that the Seventies reflect a variety of looks, and to select one winner was prehistorically rigid—so, three grand prize winners were selected to emulate the looks of today.

The mini-do style comes from California. Danna Singleton's "California Whisp" is perfect for the carefree and active girl. Short and shaggy it demands very little care.

Midi-minded Linda McQueen knows the simple things in life are often the best. Her "Southern Simplicity" is a bouncy flip that rides mid-length just above her shoulders. To help keep her hair in shape, Linda uses Breck Satin—it provides a foundation for the hair and acts as a conditioner for dry or damaged hair.

Typically feminine is the maxi-do of Deborah Legg. Her "West Virginia Swing" is all-girl softness. Deborah uses electric rollers for quick, daily sets. But, for her, the maxi is for hair only—believing that long hair makes a girl look young, but that long skirts turn her into a grandmother before her time.

The three winners each have a different approach to the Seventies—but they know there's no one style or way to do anything. And, their hair styles prove that hair can do anything a wig can do—and better.

Countians Attend THDA Convention

By Christine Laws

Four Milam County Home Demonstration club members were among the approximate 1,000 delegates and members that convened in Galveston, September 16-17 for the 44th annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

Those attending from Milam county were: Mrs. Clyde Holliman, County THDA chairman, Mrs. W. I. Skinner, delegate and county THDA chairman elect, Mrs. C. P. Beard, all of Rockdale and Mrs. Wavy Charles, delegate from Tracy. Mrs. Charles also served on the program for the State Cultural Arts and Recreation Workshop.

Persons attending represented more than 34,000 Texas homemakers who are active in educational programs of the THDA. Extension agents and specialists served as advisors to the homemakers.

Special features of the annual meeting at the Moody Convention Center included several major addresses; nine educational workshops ranging from citizenship to family life and cultural arts and recreation; an election of officers; annual business meeting; planning for assistance at several State 4-H activities; and outlining plans for participation in the National Extension Homemakers Council meeting at Las Vegas, Nevada, November 29 through December 4.

Additionally, Mrs. Wilmer Smith of New Home, Texas, immediate past president of the National Extension Homemakers Council, reviewed responsibilities of the Texas Home Demonstration Association members in preparing for and hosting the national meeting of NEHC at Dallas in September, 1971.

Opening of the THDA meeting was scheduled for 9 a.m. September 16, with Galveston County Judge Ray Hobbrook and Mrs. G. E. Lilley, Galveston County THDA chairman from Alcoa, extending the welcome.

Addresses the first morning included Dr. Malcolm C. Smith, Jr. of the Preventive Medicine Division, Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, who discussed "Space Food Systems Developments," and Robert H. Davis, formerly with the Attorney General's Office in Austin and now with the National Leadership Institute. He was one of the founders of the Texas Youth Council.

The afternoon program September 16 featured an address by Mrs. Florence W. Low of College Station, assistant director for home economics with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; and Mrs. R. O. Pearson of Abilene, Texas, advisor for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Workshops in family life, 4-H, and health followed.

At the evening session, Galveston County home demonstration club women entertained with a "Bathing Beauty Revue" featuring beach fashions from 1900 to the present day. Mrs. Leslie Scott of Houston presented a book review, "I've Only Got Two Hands and I'm Busy Wringing Them."

An election of officers was the first order of business on September 17. Workshops on membership, public relations and publicity, and THDA organization followed, along with other workshops in citizenship, cultural arts and recreation and safety.

A general session was held that afternoon with Tom Davison, assistant state 4-H leader, reviewing plans for the 4-H Center to be built at Lake Brownwood. Mrs. Wilmer Smith outlined plans for the National Extension Homemakers Council meeting to be held at Dallas next September. A business meeting followed.

Kovars Have Reunion At Fayetteville

The annual Kovar Reunion was held Sunday September 20 at Fayetteville, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kuzel of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kovar of Fayetteville were in charge. A noon meal was enjoyed and dancing in the afternoon with music furnished by Danny Drozd of Houston.

There were 51 families attending. The oldest attending was Mrs. J. P. Kovar of Fayetteville, the youngest was Julie Ann Chaneke of Grand, Tex., the farthest distance was traveled by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Chamber of Fort Worth. They were all presented gifts.

After a business meeting Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kuzel of Houston were elected to be in charge of the reunion next year in Cameron.

Relatives attended from: Bay City, Roseberg, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Corpus Christi, Caldwell, Cameron and Buckholts.

To Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glenn Webb of Calvert, a boy, Dennis Mitchell, 9 pounds 16 ounces born September 16 at St. Edward Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Bob Little of Rt. 3 Gause, a girl, Mary Darlene, 6 pounds 15 ounces, born Sept. 17 at St. Edward Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Tovar of Rockdale, a boy, Art Martin, 9 pounds 11 ounces, born Sept. 21 at St. Edward Hospital.

New officers were installed at the closing dinner meeting the evening of September 17 at the Moody Center. Mrs. Maynard Gaines of Coleman served as installing officer. She is immediate past president and presently serves as parliamentarian for the state homemakers organization.

Plant Benches Freshen Room

Planter benches have a place indoors as well as out. You can show off favorite plants to good effect by placing them on a long, low base of wood.

A grouping of various sizes and shapes set on an oblong bench or an L-shaped unit for a corner lends any room the freshness of a garden.

For small planter boxes or pots, 2x2-inch legs and framing will suffice. Heavier containers may require 2x4's or 4x4's. Western lumber is especially suited to stain, which should be an unobtrusive color, since the bench is only background.

Pickled Shrimp For After-The-Game Party

Everyone works up an appetite after a football game -- even the spectators. If it's your turn to have the gang over after the game you can celebrate your victory or help forget a loss with "Pickled Shrimp". This lively hors d'oeuvre is a combination of seasonings and Gulf shrimp -- one of Texas' most important resources.

As hostess you'll appreciate the fact that this recipe can -- and should -- be made well ahead of time. The longer the shrimp are allowed to marinate the more flavor they will absorb. And this easy-to-fix appetizer goes well with any beverage or other snack food you choose to serve.

PICKLED SHRIMP

2 lbs. shrimp, fresh or frozen
2 medium onions
1 1/2 cups vegetable oil
1 1/2 cups white vinegar
1/2 cup sugar

1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons celery seed
4 tablespoons capers with juice

Place peeled and deveined shrimp in boiling salted water for 3 to 5 minutes, or until pink and tender. Drain and rinse with cold water then chill. Make alternate layers of shrimp and onion rings in a sealable container. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over shrimp and onions. Seal and place in refrigerator for 6 hours or more, shaking or inverting occasionally. Remove shrimp from marinade and serve.

So buy some shrimp today. Purchase fresh shrimp for immediate use or keep frozen shrimp on hand for always - available entrees and appetizers. If you would like a free 3 x 5" illustrated recipe card, and other seafood recipes, send a post card with your name and address to "Pickled Shrimp", Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Austin, Texas 78701.

Milam's Oil Output Told

DALLAS

Texas oil fields have produced more than 32 million barrels of oil during the past 80 years of recorded production, according to the latest compilation of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Milam County, which has recorded production since 1921, has had a total crude oil output of 5,943,434 barrels up to the beginning of 1970. Milam County production in 1969 was 140,124 barrels at the rate of 384 barrels a day.

An income of $3.6 billion for oil production last year in Texas was distributed widely, as 198 of the state's 254 counties produce oil.

Gregg County remained the all-time champ with a cumulative production of 2,195,668,052 barrels.

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN by VERN SANFORD

Several years ago Dave Hawk, who has distinguished himself as a great bass fisherman, was weighing in a string of lunkers. A little woman approached him, looked over the string, and then asked "Don't you ever catch any little ones?"

"They are harder to catch than the big ones," Hawk replied. And therein lies a story of the few men who never seem to catch anything but big fish.

Hawk is one of them. Another is Tex Heth, who guides around Toledo Bend and Rayburn in East Texas. Then there is John Fox of San Augustine. He never seems to take one under four pounds.

It's a strange feeling to sit in a boat with an angler and both of you catch fish, but the other fellow invariably gets the lunkers. He will catch as many as you do fish-for-fish, but while you are stringing up two-pounders, he will land several in the four-pound class and some that go to six.

You'll be fishing with the same lures, and perhaps even the same make rod and reel. You watch him and try to fish as nearly as possible like he does, yet he continues to haul in the big brutes that you'd give anything just to try to land.

Such men are deliberately fishing for the big 'uns and utilizing all their knowledge and skill for taking braggin' size bass. There are many fishing secrets, and some fishermen seem to know most of them.

For one thing, these lunker-landers fish practically every day.

They know their waters. They are able to "read" water with an experienced eye. They watch for the natural habitats of big bass. They know, by studying the land adjacent to the water, where the ledges are. Then, they have a pretty good estimate of where the points run down into the water.

They mark big trees protruding in the best fishing water. They conserve their casts. When they toss out the lure, they feel that the big old bass they missed the day before may be lurking there again. . . . and he usually is. I've known fishermen to go back to the same spot for days just because they knew one big fish lived there.

A real good fisherman, whom I will not name, once was guiding a friend of mine. They had caught a tremendous string of crappie and decided they'd try a little cove for some blacks. My friend hooked one and thought it was a log. Because he knew fishing better, the guide realized it wasn't a log but a lunker.

He went back there a couple of days later and latched onto the same bass, but he lost it, too. This went on for days. The big old bass would grab the plug, spit it out and leave the fisherman empty handed.

No man can stand that kind of treatment, even if he has already caught a boat load of big bass.

Yoe Yoes Win Over Gatesville

Tuesday night at Yoe Field, Cameron's eight grade Yoe Yoes got their first win of the season over Gatesville. A strong defense along with some fine ball handling enabled them to blank the Hornets 30-0.

Outstanding on offense were Bruce Zarosky, Gene Kopriva, and Willie Bell. The defense was led by Mike Mueck, Gary Trdy, James Bailey, Kopriva, and Zarosky. Scoring for the Yoe Yoes were Zarosky and Bell with two touchdowns each. Extra points were added by Bell and the passing combination of Kopriva to Jeff Smitherman.

The seventh grade got their second win of the season by downing a stubborn Gatesville team. Scoring was lead by Jafus White with two touchdowns and another was scored by Stanley Manners. Dennis Hollas scored on a two-point conversion and the final score was 20-14.

Amendment No. 2... 'Liquor-By-Drink' Proposed Again

AMENDMENT NO. 2-
S.J.R. NO. 10

(Amending Article XVI, Section 20, Subsection (a), to authorize the legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on a local option basis.)

The proposed amendment repeals that part of Article XVI, Section 20, Subsection (a), of the Texas Constitution, which prohibits the open saloon and which empowers the legislature to define that term and enact legislation against it.

The proposed amendment substitutes a new provision empowering the legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on a local option basis. The amendment leaves unaffected the part of Subsection (a) which empowers the legislature to "regulate the manufacture, sale, possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors, including the power to establish a state monopoly on the sale of distilled liquor."

BACKGROUND

During the early days of the Republic, Texas had no restrictions against the operation of an open saloon other than the requirement that the proprietor pay a tax and that he be bonded to guarantee that an orderly and reputable house would be maintained.

As the frontier atmosphere faded and civilization sank its roots deeper into community life, temperance groups were militant but only mildly successful in attempts to bring about prohibition in the state. In 1887 the voters of the state defeated an amendment dealing with prohibition by a vote of 220,000 to 129,000.

Temperance groups found little support during the next 20 years, but in 1911 a similar proposed amendment on prohibition was lost by only 6,000 votes. World War I again brought prohibition into prominence, and when the federal government submitted the national prohibition amendment in 1918, it was adopted by the legislature.

However, prohibition lacked the public support necessary for enforcement, and when Congress modified the Volstead Act to permit the sale of beer in 1933, Texas adopted an amendment to the state constitution legalizing the sale of beer. The 21st Amendment to the federal constitution, which repealed the 18th Amendment, became effective in December, 1933.

The 44th Legislature of the State of Texas then submitted an amendment to repeal state prohibition, and it was ratified in August, 1935. The 1935 amendment authorized the sale of hard liquor on a local option basis but prohibited the open saloon.

Many attempts have been made over the years to achieve liquor by the drink, but the issue did not become a major one until it was endorsed by Governor John Connally in 1967. Connally's proposal for a "minibottle" plan of liquor by the drink failed to receive a majority vote during the 1st Called Session of the 60th Legislature in June, 1968.

Many lawmakers contended that the constitution would first have to be amended to repeal the provision banning open saloons. Such a resolution was offered and passed for submission to the Texas electorate during the Regular Session of the 61st Legislature.

ARGUMENTS

For:

1. The proposed amendment is not a wet - and - dry issue because the sale of alcohol has already been sanctioned by a majority of the residents of the state; also, a non-binding referendum during the 1968 primary elections resulted in a 40,000 - vote margin for mixed beverages out of a total vote of 1.4 million.

2. The proposed amendment would not force mixed drinks on any locality since it requires that any mixed - drink law be on a local option election basis.

3. Adoption of the proposed amendment and passage of subsequent enabling legislation would lead to stricter control of liquor sales to minors, an end to the subterfuge of private clubs, a decrease in alcohol consumption, a reduced crime rate, and fewer traffic accidents.

Against:

1. The proposed amendment would make alcoholic beverages more readily available.

2. The proposed amendment would lead to an increase in crime and in traffic deaths.

3. Although enabling legislation for the proposed amendment could be designed to raise needed revenue through the taxation of mixed beverages, this revenue would be negligible in comparison with resulting problems such as broken homes, juvenile delinquency, drunk-driving, criminal assaults, and other crimes.

The first cholera vaccine was developed in the late 19th century by Dr. Walter M. Haffkine of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, who discovered that the cholera bacillus was harmless after infecting several animals in succession.

Gene Blake, newly returned to Cameron from Ponca City, Okla., pledged $1,000 Tuesday night to kick off the final $35,000 leg of CIF's industrial drive.

Others said after the meeting what they could do.

If $62,800 ever did anything for this town, the $62,800 spent by CIF for assisting, locating or financing three local industries and screening dozens more did.

If 200 new jobs, actually 196, if new hospitals, improving schools are not reason enough, if all the pluses you see abounding around us are not enough, well

The additional $35,000 is cheap for what it is doing. Literally thousands of dollars worth of expertise, tens of thousands of dollars worth of time have gone practically for free into the CIF's drive since 1966.

Cameron is getting more than its money's worth. The various skills poured into decisions on these efforts and the resulting insights into what teamwork can do for a town on the move, and Cameron is a town on the move, are impressive.

We join once again CIF fund raisers in asking you to read the record, talk to these men or merely look around you and see what leadership, co-operation and judgment are doing for you, the resident of this community.

Think what Cameron can do with another $750,000 payroll gain in another year or so. It will happen, because this town made it happen and can do it again, in the vernacular, "in spades."

One allusion was made to "not seeing why Cameron couldn't do as well as Bryan or Temple in industrial development and growth." Cameron can. We don't build new downtowns, industry, hospitals and all the rest just for laurels.

Cameron may be just the youngest old town in the Southwest. It pays. It pays. It pays. Check the parked cars at the local plants, new and old. They weren't all there two years ago.

Hanover Homecoming

The annual homecoming at Hanover will be held Sunday, September 27. A picnic lunch at noon will include time for renewing old friendships.

An old fashion singing is planned for all day, and everyone is invited to bring their lunch and come for the day.

United Fund Agency...

Salvation Army Gives Local Aid

(Second in a series of articles about local organizations funded by Cameron United Fund. A drive for $10,000 will start in October.)

The Salvation Army is one of six agencies supported locally by the United Fund. An allocation of $2100 has been made for next year's budget if the UF goal is reached.

Other agencies that will benefit are Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, American Red Cross, USO, and Little League.

Over 500 people, local and transients, were helped by The Salvation Army in Cameron last year, receiving emergency aid.

This past summer, three local boys attended Camp Hobbittzelle, a Salvation Army facility at Midlothian near Dallas. They enjoyed a week-long outing at the modern camp free of charge.

Local services are carried out directly by the Service Unit Committee, which represents The Salvation Army in smaller cities. Help is also available from the state level of The Salvation Army.

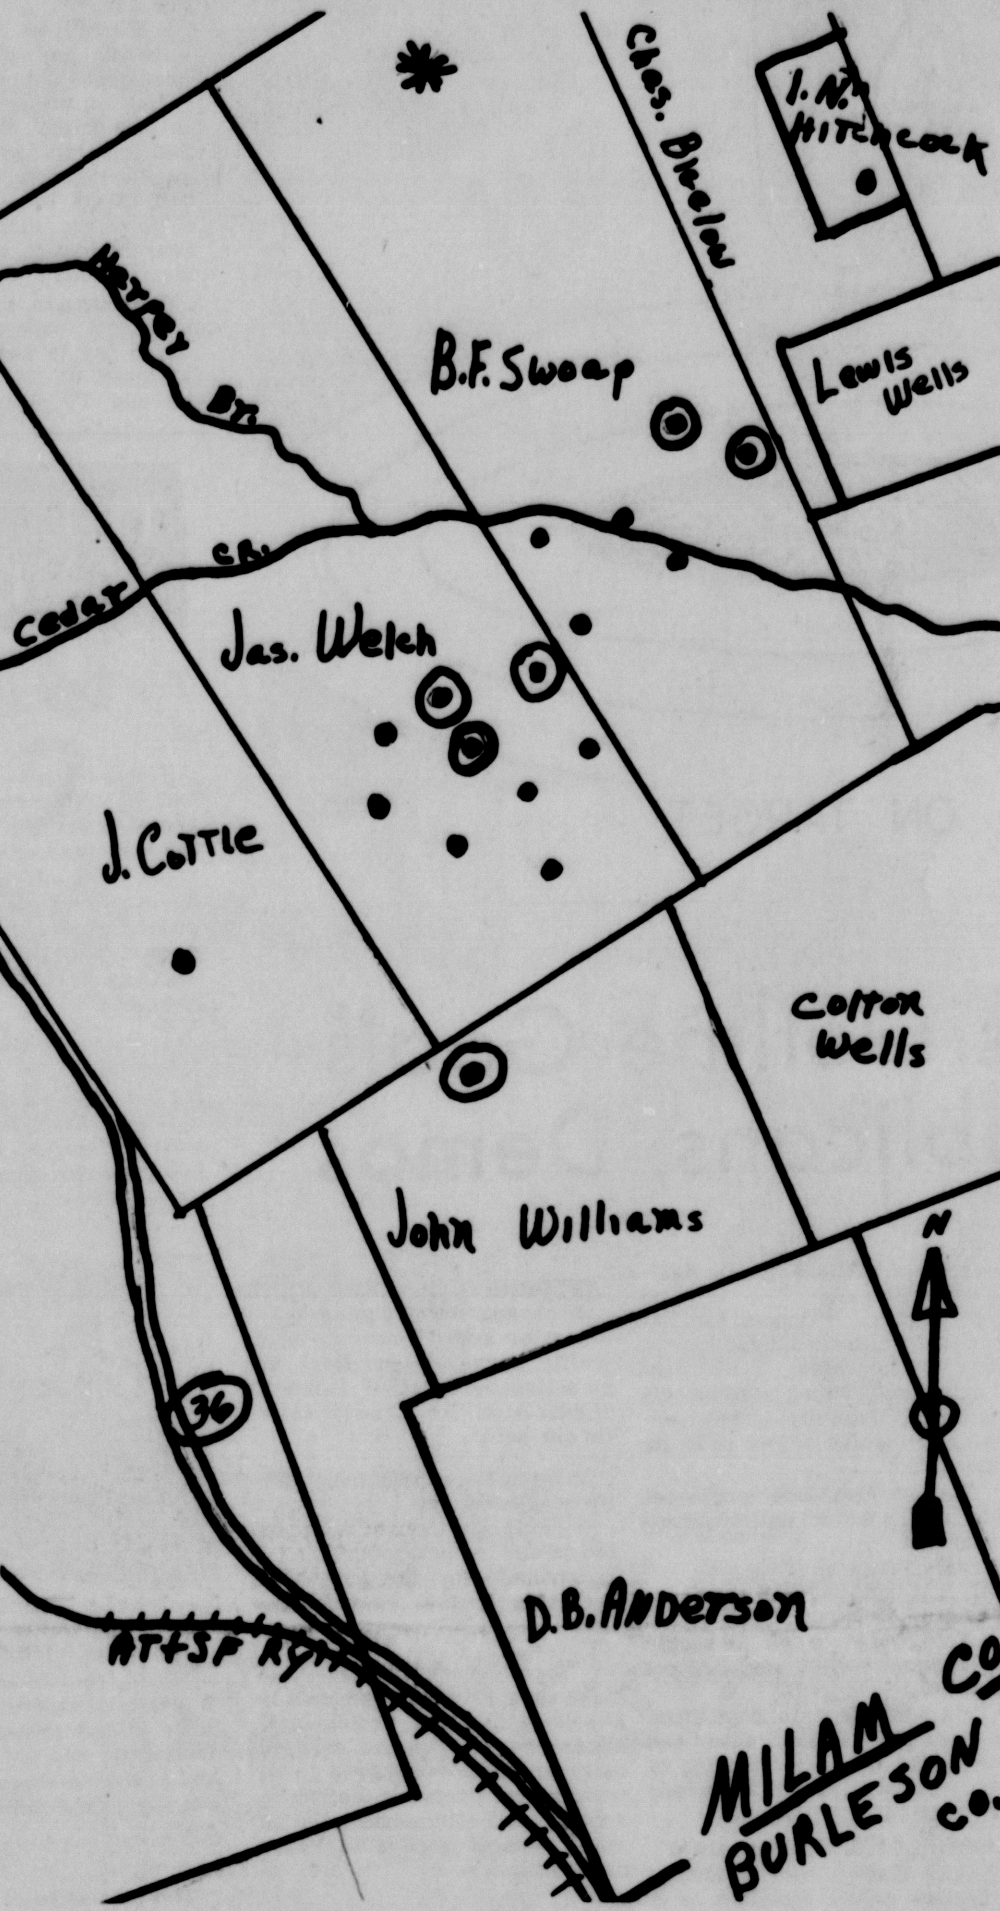

Forrest Sapp is chairman of the local Service Unit, which includes representatives from local churches, the county welfare department, and local law enforcement officials.

Of funds allocated, one-third remains with the Service Unit for its local welfare program and two-thirds are reserved for The Salvation Army's broad statewide services in which the local community is entitled to share.

Depending upon the immediate need, the local Service Unit will pay for groceries, lodgings, utility bills, rent, or minor medical or dental expenses.

The Service Unit has provided furniture for families whose homes were destroyed by fire, paid bus fares or bought gas for stranded transients, along with food. Other help included buying school supplies for children whose families were having financial problems.

State Salvation Army services are available for problems that cannot be handled by the Service Unit committee alone. A community struck by a tornado or flood, for example, would need the statewide help of The Salvation Army to CHEROKEE NAVARERO FIELD - * marks the locations of six new wildcats scheduled for the south Milam oilfield which now has 13 producing wells, shown by ● on the map.

Six New Wells Due In Cherokee-Navarero

13 Producers Now In South Milam Field

By Lloyd Albertson

Six new wildcats were scheduled for the Cherokee Navarero Field southeast of Milano late last week and application for drilling permits have been filed with the Oil & Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission.

All of the wildcats will be drilled by Byron Rose, a Houston operator, who opened the Cherokee Navarero Field a little less than a year ago when his discovery well, the No. 1 Ray Woods was brought in as a 84 barrel per day producer.

Rose's wildcats will be his No. 1 and No. 2 G. R. Hurt Estate, located on a 230 acre lease in James Welch Survey; No. 1 and No. 2 W. G. Westbrook on a 100 acre tract in B. F. Swoop Survey; No. 1 W. G. Westbrook on a 75.55 acre lease in James Welch Survey; and his No. 1 J. H. Yakasch, located on a 48.96 acre lease in John Williams Survey.

All of the new tests are located near producing wells in the field with the exception of the Yakasch, which is in the southwest extension of the field. However, it is located less than a mile southwest of Rose's No. 3-A Ray Woods and on the same trend, and a similar distance south and a little east of the David M. Thomas No. 1 J. Robert Bailey oilwell.

The two wildcats scheduled for the W. G. Westbrook 100 acre tract are located east of the Ray Woods 160 acre lease and offset the No. 2 and No. 4 Woods. The No. 2 Ray Woods made 101 barrels of oil per day on potential test after sand frac treatment last year.

The third Westbrook wildcat, to be drilled on a 75.55 acre lease, is located west of the Ray Woods tract and offsets a Dave M. Thomas well west of it. Drill site is staked north of one of the G. R. Hurt Estate wildcats.

Rose's two Hurt Estate wildcats, on a 230 acre lease, are located north of his three wells on the 175 acre Ray Woods tract. His No. 2 also offsets his No. 1 Ray Woods, the discovery well for the Cherokee Navarero Field.

His application for drilling permits confirmed rumors heard recently in the oil patch that Rose was planning to drill five or six new wildcats in the field.

The Cherokee Navarero Field now has thirteen wells. In addition to Byron Rose, other operators are David M. Thomas of Farmington, New Mexico; Victor P. Head of Houston, W. E. Gallaway of New Mexico, and Fred L. Gaines of Houston.

In other drilling activity in south Milam County, Stanley H. Rosenthal, a Bay City operator, reportedly was preparing to drill his No. 1 Earnest L. Noack.

Location of the Noack is on a 595 acre lease in David Houston Survey in the Milbur Field. This wildcat was scheduled about three weeks ago.

Break-Ins Net 65 Cents, Jail

Three break-ins Sunday night netted 65 cents, a ring, a watch and a berth in the county jail for a Cameron youth.

Acting City Police Chief Felipe Martinez said he and Sgt. Truman White arrested a 19-year-old suspect at his home Tuesday morning, recovering a wrist watch taken from the Monroe Corbin residence.

Martinez said the Cameron Junior High was entered through a window broken by the burglar and 35 cents was taken from a Coke box in the principal's office. A carton of cigarettes and about 30 cents were taken from the Ebony Club and a wrist watch and ring were taken from the Monroe Corbin residence on Golf Links Avenue.

Fall Arrives With Cool Wind, Rain

Fall was right on time Wednesday morning, with a cool wind from the north blowing in more rain on soggy Central Texas. It was nice, even though some may envy Dumas residents, who saw snow falling Tuesday.

CIF Cites Industries' Impact On Cameron

Cameron Industrial Foundation leaders Tuesday night recapped progress in assisting location of three industries, creation of 200 jobs and reasons for completing a drive for $35,000.

Banker-CIF director Hilliard Thomas detailed the impact of a $750,000 annual payroll created by CIF industrial work, which he said turns $4 million annually in the Cameron area.

Banker-CIF director Lester Williams noted the need for continued teamwork and emphasized the Cameron Industrial Foundation's satisfied need for operating capital will assure continued industrial development.

Gene Blake, head of Cameron Coca-Cola Co., pledged $1,000 at the meeting and other pledges were being discussed following the discussion among some 25 CIF directors, officers and stockholders. About 130 hold stock in CIF.

CIF BOARD PRAISED

The program was chaired by CIF president N. L. Caperton, who emphasized, along with fund drive chairman Bill Burns, the CIF board of about 15 men is the finest committee on which he had served.

CIF secretary-treasurer Henry Siebman itemized the assets of the Foundation and need for operating capital to keep a "going business going."

He noted:

ONE--The 1966 stage of the total $100,000 goal had received 96 percent payment on $66,695 pledged or $62,800.

TWO--The "big picture is not so bad" he said. The Foundation has:
--37 acres of land, valued at $35,500
--Note receivable. 15,563
--Railroad spur. 4,162
--Billboard. 1,200

These assets show $56,400 of the $62,800 paid in by the membership of the non-profit corporation. CIF has a note due for $5,000 and income of about $125 a month on a 15-year note to Hensley-Russell Corp., on part of their new building.

Thomas noted employment among three new industries of 196 jobs, a weekly payroll of about $750,000 spent mostly in Cameron, indirect expansions due to industry at Newton Memorial Hospital (15 new employees) new $1.4 million St. Edward Hospital (20 or more new employees), Cameron Public Schools (132 employees), Elm Creek Farm, a new swine operation, among other community developments.

Williams emphasized this new industry has in fact offset many losses in the cotton economy with what this community has done in three years.

"Nothing can beat a bunch of little industries," assuring a "perpetual spending in town" though one or two may be out at a time, he told the group. And Williams noted that 100 new jobs would do for the community, statistics backed up by what CIF industrial development statistics showed.

Forums On Aging Let Seniors Air Problems, Needs

Attendance has passed 175 at the Community Forums on Aging, currently being held in Milam County.

The third forum was held Tuesday evening at Abiding Savior Lutheran Church in Cameron and the final one in Thornedale Wednesday.

The community forums, co-sponsored by the Governor's Committee on Aging and the Texas A&M Extension Service, represent the first step in preparation for the White House Conference on Aging called by President Nixon for 1971.

The meetings were designed to give senior citizens an opportunity to speak out on their basic human needs. Information collected at the local forums will be used as a basis for preparing concrete and specific program objectives.

The Governor's State Conference on Aging will be held in May and community reports will be compiled into a state report, which will be studied at the national White House Conference starting in November, 1971.

'BE GENEROUS'

Burns urged the group to be "generous when someone calls" sometime after the meeting. He said most of his information was given in previous talks. He said goal of the new drive is $35,000 to complete the $100,000 drive begun in 1966.

Thomas noted the "acute housing shortage" which came out of industrial expansion, particularly in rent property. Discussion brought up need for new housing, the question of "open housing" in new construction areas and how modern communities must face such issues to progress.

Program chairman R. W. Wells suggested to the group that "knowledgeable people in the construction business meet with the industrial foundation board and discuss the possibilities for working on the housing problem in Cameron.

Comments also noted need for updating numerous community services as expansion continued in industrial payroll and housing became available. Thomas said mortgage money for housing was becoming more available than a year ago.

Prime interest rate went down a half point during recent days.

Caperton thanked the group for the turnout, lauding Edwin Bigbee, both local banks, Mayor E. A. Perrin and the foundation board for their contributions to the industrial program.

He then adjourned the meeting.

JOHN EANES

John Eanes Dies; Was Volunteer Fireman 36 Years

John Eanes, 60, died at 2:45 p.m. Saturday of an apparent heart attack at his home.

Mr. Eanes was employed at the Milam County Tax Collector's office, where he had been working for the past 24 years.

Mr. Eanes was a member of the Volunteer Fire Department for 36 years, serving as city fire marshal at one time and as president for a number of years.

Born September 12, 1910 in Christman, Mr. Eanes had lived in Cameron for 40 years. He was a veteran of World War II.

Funeral service was held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church, the Rev. Alvis Coleman officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife of Cameron; one son, John Eanes Jr., of Rockdale; four brothers, Joe Eanes, Carrol Eanes, Hope Eanes, all of Rockdale, and Vernon Eanes of Cameron; one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McElreath of San Antonio.

Palbearers were Carl Black, Walter White, Nathan Lewis, Frank Richter Jr., John David Thompson, and Joe Lee Humphlik Jr. Honorary palbearers were Charles Brady, Bud Kalkbrenner, J. C. Andrews, members of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department, and members of the Men's Bible Class at First Methodist Church.

Your United Fund....

An annual Herald series is underway on the participating agencies in the North Milam United Fund.

These stories tell what the participating agencies do, locally and nationally, with the money North Countians contribute.

Each agency is generally recognized as an important function in the community, including American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Cameron Little League, USO.

It goes without saying Cameron has seldom gone over the top, if ever, for a united fund program. Cameron has done a lot of things well in funding, but this one seems to escape, periodically, the giving.

We might remember that one drive satisfies six functions. Anyone who can remember the proliferation of drives in the 1960's when the United Fund faltered here will remember too many drives.

Each agency concedes the value of one drive. In cities, up to 75 agencies participate in one.

The United Fund drive is a worthy effort. We only remind that it is of service at the local and national levels.

What Others Say...

A Good Place To Be....

Indiana has been a prosperous agricultural state because its farmers have not depended on a single crop but diversified their products.

Industrial prosperity can be traced to a similar balance in our economy. Hoosierland does not depend on two or three giant industries but runs the whole gamut of industrial categories. Consequently, when one class of industry slows down, the shock waves are abated considerably by others still in vigorous operation.

Robert Corya, business editor of The News, presents some interesting facts on this subject. He points out that in the state of Washington and in Seattle, the economy depends largely on Boeing, giant manufacturer of aircraft. Since June, 1968, that company has laid off about 46,000 people, with the likelihood of 10,000 more before Jan. 1.

As a result, unemployment is twice the national level, real estate and new car sales have declined substantially and hotel and motel vacancies are up. The effect is felt in many other activities. It is unlikely such a development could occur in Indiana, where there is no single dominant industry.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

SDS TODAY: AN FBI REPORT

SENATOR JACK R. MILLER (Iowa) "... (This) article ... appeared in the Fordham Law Review. ... entitled, 'A Study in Marxist Revolutionary Violence.' ...

This authoritative article is MUST READING for parents of students and students attending or about to attend college." (The condensed article by J. Edgar Hoover,

Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, follows.)

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY "We're not communist inspired. We're communists. Corrupt, evil and it (our system of government) should be destroyed, in fact smashed."

This quotation reflects the existence in America today of a small group of individuals, primarily college students, who are working for the overthrow of our democratic institutions.

The history of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is brief--spanning a scant seven years. Actually, SDS as we know it today was born at a convention of a mere handful of students meeting at Port Huron, Michigan, in 1962.

Following the Port Huron convention, SDS leaders returned to their respective campuses and embarked on an ambitious organizing campaign with the primary objective of "radicalizing" the students.

The 1968-1969 academic year saw SDS violence on many campuses, including the conviction of an SDS member at a Midwestern university under the federal sabotage statute for attempting to bomb a Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) building on campus. In April, 1969, Cameron David Bishop, an SDS member, was placed on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) "Ten Most Wanted" list of criminal fugitives. Bishop was charged with sabotage in the dynamiting of power transmission towers in Colorado.

The whole concept of violence was tragically emphasized in a recent issue of SDS's NEW LEFT NOTES.

read: "With a defiant smile, 5-year-old ... shows how he placed a 25-pound concrete slab on the tracks and wrecked a passenger train."

In discussing the SDS (or any other type of extremism) we must be careful of our facts and not indiscriminately label those whom we do not personally like, or whose opinions are unpopular as extremists. The genuine hard core radical on campus must be distinguished from the legitimate protester.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

SDS is no college fraternity or sorority bent on an exercise in political science. Genuine liberals have long since pulled out.

For the complete text of the article and the FBI report you are referred to issue No. 153 of the Congressional Record--J.C.

Platforms Outline Goals For Republicans, Demos

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN State Republican and Democratic parties have put their appeals to Texas voters in writing ... via the platforms drafted at their separate conventions last week.

Democrats, party veterans said repeatedly, "wrote the most progressive planks ever."

Republicans put the emphasis on attacking crime, campus disorders and drug use.

Highlights of the Democratic statement of party goals include:

* A far-reaching vocational-technical education program, repeal of annual voter registration requirements and substitution of "registration by voting" every four years, opposition to a tax on groceries, a minimum foundation program for policemen with state standards of qualification and pay, state civil service, expansion of unemployment insurance benefits.

* Increase in workmen's compensation benefits, creation of a public utilities regulatory commission, establishment of an office of consumer protection, elimination of the $80 million a year welfare outlay ceiling, an increase in minimum wage, sweeping insurance reforms and creation of a state management research commission to promote governmental efficiency.

Republican platform highlights are:

* Legislation to end discrimination in state governmental employment and to insure equal pay for equal work, creation of single-member legislative districts, realistic technical and vocational courses commencing at junior high school level and offered in nearly all high schools, condemnation of forced busing of students to achieve racial balance;

* Opposition to a tax on groceries, later voter registration deadlines, inclusion of all insurance company income in calculating auto insurance rates, admission of oral confessions in trials, and life sentence without parole for murdering a policeman.

AFL-CIO "BACKS" DEMOS Following the conventions, Texas AFL-CIO leaders "urged" support by labor of all statewide candidates of the Democratic party in the general election.

Decision, AFL-CIO President H. S. (Hank) Brown explained, left union members free to do as they pleased, since there was no formal "endorsement" carrying monetary support or mandatory vote.

Big labor's hang-up was in the U. S. Senate race. Some union spokesmen were reluctant to back Democrat Lloyd Bentsen but were likewise unenthusiastic about Republican candidate George Bush.

Committee of Political Education (COPE) gave "special recognition" to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Agriculture Commissioner John White and Land Commissioner nominee Bob Armstrong.

MIXED DRINK STUDY Alcoholic Beverage Commission directed its staff to study liquor - by - the - drink laws before the mixed drink constitutional amendment is voted on November 3.

ABC officials expressed concern that the liquor - by - the - drink law, if approved by the voters and Legislature, be tightly enforced.

Meanwhile, "Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws," sponsors of the liquor - by - the - drink amendment, announced a statewide publicity and advertising campaign to put over its amendment.

"Texans Who Care" organization will conduct an opposition campaign.

OIL ALLOWABLE UP

Texas Railroad Commission bumped the state oil allowable for October to 87 per cent of potential.

This would be the highest since January, 1949. Increase was granted on the understanding of strict compliance with the order directing record allowable.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Texas Employment Commission has called attention to a new federal law which will result in the biggest single increase in worker coverage since the federal - state program began.

An estimated 400,000 Texas workers will be covered, and 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance tax beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Federal law provides for payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximum of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. Federal government will pay half the extended benefits -- once regular benefits are exhausted.

Bill also makes more jobholders eligible for benefits, makes more employers subject to insurance tax and increases the federal unemployment insurance tax paid by employers who already are covered by the law. About 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to the coverage in Texas. These organizations employ four or more in 20 weeks of the current or preceding calendar year, and have the option of paying taxes or reimbursing the state for benefits paid.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

A person whose photograph is taken for speed enforcement or traffic surveying purposes has no actionable invasion of privacy rights, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Texas Air Control Board has the power to certify facilities as constructed for the purpose of achieving control of air pollution.

* Texas Education Agency can make appropriate adjustments in a school district's professional allotments to consider average daily attendance required to be transferred from one district to another. All allotments must be made without regard to race, creed or color.

* Legal provisions relating to standards and specifications of public buildings are applicable to the Old Land Office (Museum) Building.

* Texas Water Rights Commission may employ an Examiner in its proceedings.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Somebody who didn't sign his name has sent me a clipping from a newspaper -- I don't care whether his name is signed or not but it looks like it'd been just as easy to send me the whole paper -- with a note asking me what I thought about it.

The clipping reported that the Women's Liberation Movement is complaining because the Weather Bureau gives female names to hurricanes. In fact, they were doing more than complaining, they were raising Ole Ned about it.

"Would like to see what you have to say about this," the anonymous note said.

He, or maybe she, has come to the right source if a fair and impartial answer is wanted, as hurricanes and women are two things I'm no authority on.

However, there are certain characteristics about both a person is bound to detect.

For example, the Weather Bureau will report Hurricane Felice say is headed for a certain point on the coast, reporters and TV people rush there, and an hour later Felice has changed her mind and gone in another direction. You never know where she's going or when she's going to arrive. In the entire history of hurricanes, nobody has ever been able to predict one with any dependability. In the entire history of women ... And why do they refer to it as a tropical disturbance before it becomes a full-fledged woman, I mean hurricane?

I don't want to get tangled up with the Women's Liberation Movement, but would it seem right reading that Tropical Disturbance Albert is headed toward the mainland? Or to take protection against Hurricane Teddy? No. Celia. Felice. ... such feminine names just sound more accurate and ominous than Thomas and Donald.

However, on the other hand, there are some male characteristics about hurricanes. For example, you have to clean up after them.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Test Tube Democracy

Think of television networks and jet transportation, and the United States will appear to be one vast, interconnected unit.

But think of traffic laws and fishing regulations and the real estate taxes and grounds for divorce, and the United States will appear to be a jumble of diversities.

Such diversities can be confusing. But they are also rewarding in a way that is too often overlooked. Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis once put the matter as follows:

"It is one of the happy incidents of the federal system that a single courageous state, may, if its citizens choose, serve as a laboratory; and try novel social and economic experiments without risk to the rest of the country."

This advantage of diversity is not the least bit theoretical. On the contrary, there are countless examples of one state leading the way, trying out a new idea, while other states wait and see how it works--very much like a scientist watching an experiment in a test tube.

For instance: is it a good idea to give the customers of door-to-door salesmen a "cooling-off period," during which they may reconsider and cancel the order?

Some say this would protect the gullible buyer from high-pressure salesmanship. Others say it would put an unfair burden on the legitimate firms engaged in this field. A number of states are now putting the idea to a test.

Or: is it a good idea for the state to pay compensation to the victims of violent crime?

Some say this would be fulfilling a moral obligation of the state. Others say it would be just another costly boondoggle. Several states are now trying it out.

Of course, no two states are exactly alike. Lawmakers, considering a new program, will weigh local conditions and consult local opinion. Yet, they will also be influenced by finding out what actually happened when the idea was tried in a sister state.

"The science of government," said an earlier Supreme Court, "is the science of experiment."

The State Insurance Board has issued a warning to insurance companies that refuse to write or renew fire, homeowners or automobile policies.

In a letter to Rep. Dan Kubiak's office, Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten said many insurance firms have adopted procedures that prohibit the writing of new business and seriously restrict the renewal of existing policies.

Cotten's directive to all fire and casualty companies operating in Texas said this has worked an "extreme hardship on Texans and is completely contrary to the public interest," Rep. Kubiak said in his newsletter.

"The commissioner has informed us that he has taken steps so that if a company refuses to obey a renewal order, it can have its license revoked to do business in the State of Texas," Kubiak said.

"Many of our constituents who have paid insurance all of their lives have been hurt and when the first claim has been filed, find themselves without insurance. This will be corrected immediately and we request that any person who has a recent cancellation inform our office so that proper steps may be taken," he said.

ABSENTEE VOTING

Any qualified Texas voter eligible to cast an absentee ballot by mail may now make application to this county clerk for an absentee ballot for the Nov. 3 general election.

In order to vote absentee by mail in this election, a voter must be unable to appear Nov.

3 at the polling place because of sickness or physical disability; or expect to be absent from his county of residence on Nov. 3 and during the county clerk's office hours throughout the absentee voting period beginning October 14 and ending October 30. Details about absentee voting procedure may be obtained from Kubiak's office in Rockdale or from the county clerk's office

in Cameron.

Rep. Kubiak reminded voters of the seven proposed amendments on the ballot, and the election of a U. S. Senator, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, all the members of the House and one-third of the members of the Senate.

Voter registration in Texas this year hit an all-time high of 4,150,645, he said.

New Certification Plan For Swine

By J. D. Moore

A new plan for adjusting data to a standard weight, and new standards have been adopted for the all-breed meat certification program, according to officials of the National Association of Swine Records. The new plan will be in effect on all pigs farrowed after January 1, 1970 according to Frank Orts, Meats Specialist at A&M.

Pigs weighing from 200 to 240 pounds will be eligible for slaughter under the program, and all data will be adjusted to 220 pounds on the basis of conversion factors worked out by a committee of the association. The committee recommendations were adopted by the breed secretaries with only one change. The committee had recommended reducing the backfat limit from 1.5 inches in the old standards to 1.4 but the limit was returned to 1.5 inches, which is actually a reduction since previously a pig weighing 200 pounds could have 1.5 inches but now the standard will be 1.5 inches adjusted to 220 pounds.

The new standards, which each pig in a pair slaughtered for certification will be required to make, on an adjusted basis, for a litter to be designated as a certified litter, are as follows: Days to 220 pounds - 180 days maximum

Length - 29.5 inches minimum
Backfat - 1.5 inches maximum
Loin Eye Area - 4.5 inches minimum

Conversion factors for adjusting to a 220 pound basis will be: Days to 220 pounds - 2 pounds per day

Length - 0.025 inches per pound
Backfat - 0.004 inches per pound
Loin Eye Area - 0.015 square inches per pound

A slide scale showing the minimum standards at the varying weights from 200 to 240 pounds for both a certified litter and a superior certified litter is available at the county agent's office.

CLEAN-UP REGULATIONS
The Texas Department of Agriculture's Pink Bollworm Quarantine rules including the revisions are on file in the county agents office.

Briefly, the planting dates for cotton in Milam county are March 20 to May 31. All cotton plants must be destroyed by midnight of November 30. Said destruction may be accomplished by plowing under the cotton stalks or destroying them by use of a rotary type stalk shredder.

Cotton stalks standing in any field from November 30 to March 30, shall not be within the authorization conferred within the law, and, therefore, shall be in violation of the Texas Pink Bollworm Law.

Each land owner in said county and his tenant, agent or lessee, if any, of said land, shall be jointly and/or severally responsible for conducting cotton production as provided herein, and for any act or omission on said land not within the authorization conferred herein and in violation of the law.

SOYBEAN FIELD DAY
The Texas A&M University Rice - Pasture Research and Extension Center near Beaumont announces that a Soybean Observation Day will be held on Sept. 30.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

The approximately 90,000 4-H Club members in Texas will join their counterparts throughout the Nation in the observance of 4-H Club Week, Oct. 4-10. Governor Preston Smith has officially proclaimed 4-H Week in Texas and urges all citizens to support this worthwhile youth organization.

Prussic Acid Is A Threat In Certain Fall Pastures

COLLEGE STATION

Hybrid sorghum - sudan pastures, fast growing and excellent forage, can also be deadly, especially during the late summer and fall.

The breakdown of the sorghum's plant material by its own enzymes results in prussic acid poisoning for the animals which eat the plant material. Dr. John C. Reagor, toxicologist for the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, says.

The actual agent causing death is hydrogen cyanide, the same chemical used in state gas chambers for executions, he adds.

"There are two times during which poisoning occurs," Dr. Reagor explained. "After frost, where there is damage to the plants, high levels of hydrogen cyanide are very common in the plants."

"The second case is when plants perk up and begin fast growth after a very dry period during which the plants have been burned up."

The hydrogen cyanide is very volatile and therefore stays in the plants for only a very short time, but while it is present, animals must be kept off the pasture, he said.

"Usually, if a severe outbreak occurs, cows exhibiting symptoms when the veterinarian is called, will be dead before he can arrive," Dr. Reagor said. "He will probably be able to save only those which are still breathing after he arrives."

Hay that is improperly cured can also present prussic acid poisoning problems for a short time, Dr. Reagor noted adding that the blood of poisoned animals will be cherry red.

Dr. Reagor also urged farmers to be on the lookout for nitrate poisoning that may occur during the late fall on winter pastures when there is a lot of cloudy weather.

"The plants, instead of growing and changing nitrates into protein, just accumulate the nitrates," Dr. Reagor said. "Animals must also be taken off these pastures until the plants have had a chance to grow and convert the nitrates to protein."

Dr. Reagor noted that the blood of animals that have died from nitrate poisoning will be chocolate brown, just the opposite from those dying from prussic acid poisoning.

TEXAS SENIOR CITIZENS

Texas Senior Citizens during the week of Sept. 20, will participate in more than 600 Community Forums, speaking out on their needs. Minnie Bell, Extension specialist in family life education - aging, said the forums are the beginning of the 1971 White House Conference for Aging.

Airplane service was begun between New York and Chicago in 1919.

WHOSE FARM IS THIS? - The Herald still has some of the aerial photos of Milam County farms and ranches taken in 1958. The photos are unidentified, so we invite our readers who recognize a place shown to come in and claim the picture - no charge.

Time To Plant Cool Season Legumes, Grain

Recent rains in the Cameron and Rockdale area have provided the moisture that was needed for the early planting of winter legumes and small grain.

In order to get maximum production, the cool season legumes and small grain should be planted as soon as possible.

Many of the cooperators of both the Taylor and Central Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts are ready to plant as soon as the fields are dry enough for them to get in. Some still have some seedbed preparation to complete and a few had just finished "dry planting" their small grain when the rains came.

Adequate fertilization is another must for maximum production. Fertilizer should be applied according to a soil analysis.

Legumes and small grain can be an important part of a conservation cropping system when properly managed. They provide cover for the soil during periods when the major crops do not furnish adequate cover.

Financial assistance is available for the establishment of winter legumes through the Milam County ASCS and technical assistance is available from the local Soil Conservation Service in Cameron.

LOVEGRASS

During the past few years several thousand acres of weeping lovegrass and ermelo lovegrass have been planted in the Cameron area of the Taylor and Central Texas Soil Conservation Districts. Most of the cooperators who have planted it are using the grass for winter grazing.

Now is the time to apply fertilizer to the lovegrass in order for it to make adequate and fresh growth for the livestock to use during the winter months.

For more information on the management and use of lovegrass, contact one of the SCS technicians in Cameron.

STATE HAY SHOW

The State Hay Show will be held Oct. 30 at the Northline Shopping Center, Houston Extension Agronomist Neal Pratt says any hay producer is eligible to compete. Entries should be submitted by Oct. 1 in order to permit time for forage analysis, he said. An afternoon program will cover such subjects as harvesting methods, forage analysis, and winter pastures for stocker calves.

The U.S. postage stamp was approved in 1847.

Farmers and ranchers doing conservation cost - sharing work under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) are asked to keep careful track of the date they are to report the completed work.

It is important that the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee have a report on hand by the time the work is to be completed. The funds allocated for the job are not supposed to be tied up past that date unless they have been earned.

Usually there are more applications on file than there are cost-share funds available for ACP practices, and it is not right for the Committee to keep funds set aside for a practice when it is not known whether the farmer has installed it or not.

If a farmer is not able to complete his conservation work before the completion date, he may ask for a time extension by phoning, writing, or visiting the Milam County ASCS Office. Time extensions should be requested before the practice completion date.

Sometimes a person misplaces the form which he is supposed to sign and send or bring to the County ASCS Office when his ACP work is done. In that case, he should phone or write to say the work was completed and then drop by at his convenience to sign a duplicate form kept on file at the County Office.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Danny Phillips

HORSE SURVEY SENT OUT

Recently a survey was sent out to sample feelings about starting a new 4-H Horse club for beginners. In this club, 4-H'ers will be given practical and fun experiences in horse care and training.

Recreational activities will make up a portion of the program to let 4-H'ers share ideas and get together in fun activities.

If you would have interest in such a club, please contact me at the county agents office in the basement of the Post Office. Joining 4-H can be fun.

TIME TO GET SHOW PIGS

Anyone interested in showing pigs in the county show or major shows next spring should be making contacts and buying show prospects now.

There are still a lot of good pigs available throughout this area. If any 4-H'er is interested in finding a pig, feel free to contact me anytime and let's get some good pigs going for next year.

If he has misplaced the form and does not remember his completion date, all he has to do is get in touch with the County ASCS Office - someone will look it up for him.

Occasionally circumstances prevent a farmer from installing his approved ACP conservation practice. The County Committee is always sorry to hear it, but appreciates hearing it in time to re-allocate the funds. It is a good - neighbor deed to let the ASCS Office know as soon as possible, because it might mean giving another farmer a chance to put in a needed conservation practice this year.

Texas Stock Goes To Mexico

AUSTIN

Commissioner John C. White reports that Texas Department of Agriculture personnel have helped groups from Mexico recently complete buying about $112,000 worth of cattle and about 1,200 head of sheep and goats from Texas ranchers.

Two other groups from Mexico are due in Texas soon to complete negotiations for purchase of 480 hogs and 80 Holstein cows, valued at about $70,000.

Texas Department of Agriculture marketing specialists, Ernesto DeLeon, Darryl McDonald, and Dick Kieymeyer have helped and will help in the transactions.

The cattle, purebred Brahmas and horned Herefords, were bought from ranchers in the Seguin and Waco areas. Commissioner White said, and the Rambouillet and Suffolk sheep were bought in the San Angelo and other West Texas areas.

Four hundred Angora goats were bought in the Rock Springs area.

The animals were bought for two or three ranches in Mexico and for the Mexican government in that country's continuing program of developing better breeding stock, the Commissioner said.

Commissioner White said that Mexican buyers credited the "Directorio de Ganaderia del Estado de Texas" ("Directory of Livestock of the State of Texas") with being of great help in locating the livestock they bought in Texas.

The directory is published by the Texas Department of Agriculture and is printed in both Spanish and English. It gives information about beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, goats, horses and hogs and those who have them for sale.

Electricity: mysterious wonder-worker

It has no weight. No shape. You can't see it. But harness electricity and put it to work, and you can have towns that glow at night . . . power for industry . . . movies and TV . . . air conditioned homes and freezers full of ice cream.

And TP&L brings you all the electric power you need to work these wonders! With plenty more coming up for the future. More than 1,500,000 kilowatts are due from new generating units within the next three years.

On hand with power a-plenty, 24 hours a day — that's TP&L! With a reliability made even greater by its membership in the Texas Interconnected System . . . a vast, automatic source of instant emergency power available to any member needing it.

Electricity: the mysterious wonder-worker . . . you can depend on TP&L to bring it to you — all of it you need! Anytime!

East Texas - Oilman's Dream

(Ed Note: Following is the first in a 3-part series on the fabulous East Texas oil field discovery and the early years of that oil boom and the lawless era that followed.)

DALLAS--The discovery of the East Texas field, which celebrated its 40th anniversary September 5, was an oilman's dream. It was huge--the largest oil field in the world at the time--lying in parts of Cherokee, Gregg, Rusk, Smith, and Upshur counties in the pine-covered hills of East Texas. It was relatively shallow, only 3,600 feet.

Its massive reservoir sands contained a pool of oil 120 feet deep in the thickest part. Approximately 60 per cent of this oil is underlain by salt water under a tremendous pressure. This tremendous body of water pushed oil upwards to make the East Texas wells flow oil without expensive pumps or other artificial lift equipment. Under pressure reinjection of water to maintain the pressure a reservoir of this type can be expected to yield 90 per cent of its oil. The well has produced 3,901,226,217 barrels of oil. Its 2 billion barrels of remaining oil represent 16 per cent of Texas reserves and 7 per cent of U. S. reserves.

East Texas oil was of a preferred gravity of 38.0-39.8 degrees, rich in light hydrocarbons and yielding as much as 80 per cent gasoline--petroleum's No. 1 product.

Columbus Marion "Dad" Joiner, who discovered the field on September 5, 1930, was flying in the face of most geologists of the time who had condemned the area as having little chance of oil production. And as it turned out, Joiner only touched the east edge of the field with his well. Then he held onto leases on the wrong side--selling his acreage on the west side to H. L. Hunt for $30,000 cash, $45,000 in notes, and $1,260,000 in oil production payments. Joiner invested much of this money in drilling

Roads were clogged as hundreds came to see the Joiner well. When the production test was made October 3, 1930, a crowd estimated at somewhere between 4,000 and 8,000 people were on hand for the momentous event.

It all began here. C. M. "Dad" Joiner (third from left) shakes hand of Dr. A. D. Lloyd, his geologist, in front of the No. 3 Daisy Bradford, discovery well of the East Texas oil field. Ed Laster, second from right, was the drilling contractor. Behind him (with cigar and in white shirt) is H. L. Hunt. The crew (left to right) are J. Sistrunk, James Hunt, D. Hughes, Glenn Pool, J. P. Maxwell, and on extreme right, W. A. Kirkland, driller.

dry holes on his acreage which wasn't in the field. He died in Dallas on March 27, 1947, in little more than comfortable circumstances.

However, his old discovery well, the No. 3 Daisy Bradford, is still there. Hunt Oil Company maintains it for sentimental reasons and occasionally pumps a little oil from it. The well made 325 barrels of oil in 1969. Its last yield was a couple of barrels in July of this year. Cumulative production is 98,682 barrels.

The well's position of the east side of the field proved costly to Joiner, who misread the direction of the oil play, but it has assured the well's long life. Water is being injected on the west side of the field driving the oil to the east side. The old well -- though no longer economical -- will probably be able to produce until the last recoverable barrel of oil is taken from the East Texas field.

Columbus Marion "Dad" Joiner, discoverer of the East Texas oil field, was 70 years old when he discovered the biggest oil field in the world.

Classroom Teachers Assn. Meets

The Cameron Classroom Teachers Association met in the Cameron Junior High School Library on September 14. Mrs. Kay Minter, President of the Association, presided. Other officers for 1970-71 include: Rae Kosel, vice - president; Susan Rosson, secretary; Thomas Dusek, treasurer; De Lane Yager, parliamentarian; and Linda Morgan, reporter.

Mrs. Minter appointed the following committees for 1970-71: Program - Rae Kosel, Linda Morgan, Willyne Stanislaw, Pat Short and Peggy Dyer; Social - Dian Gerick, Cheryl McQueen, Wanda Coleman and Darlene Coufal; Teacher Welfare - Cecil Anderson, Ada Margaret Smith and Barbara Walker; Legislative Committee - Patsy Edmonds, Minnie Ola Devine and Ernie Laurence;

Also: Nominating - Naomi Zajack, Bobby Carter, Annette McCullin and Viola Biggs; Membership - Frances Hensley, Nadine Zelisko and Patsy Nance; Public Relations - Seth Dockery, Johnny Reeves, Willie Henderson and Fred Johns.

The members saw a film entitled "Spirit Get The Word." The next meeting will be held on October 13. At this meeting new teachers, administration and the school board members will be honored.

October Meeting Set For County Teachers

The Milam County Teachers Association will meet Tuesday, October 6 at 8 p.m. in the Rockdale High School band hall.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Leon Douglas, field representative for the Texas State Teachers Association.

Douglas attended West Texas State College where he received his bachelor's degree and master's degree in education. Before joining the staff of TSTA, he served as a classroom teacher in junior and senior high school, and as a high school principal.

Douglas has membership in national, state, and local professional organizations, and has also worked closely with local and district organizations.

Rural Housing Up

Rural people are moving into new and improved homes at a 17.4 per cent higher rate than a year ago, reports the Farmers Home Administration. Average house financed through this agency has modern facilities, three bedrooms and costs between $12,000 and $13,000.

House Boom Seen

One-family home building will push ahead of apartments again in three to five years, say the forecasters. Why? Because half of all Americans are under 26, and they're expected to start a new baby boom.

Candidates Say...

Bentsen

U. S. Senate candidate Lloyd Bentsen believes it is time for the nation to "Get Tough" in its fight against crime and drug abuse, with reform of the Federal Court system getting a high priority.

The Democratic nominee has proposed a constitutional amendment requiring that every Federal Judge be reconfirmed by the Senate after every 10 years of service. It would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to remove a Judge from office but Bentsen noted that Federal Judges now receive lifetime appointments and are not answerable to anyone.

"We are going to reduce the crime rate only when more people demonstrate a greater respect for the law, when we correct the injustices in society which breed crime and when we are willing to make the reforms necessary to do a better job in fighting crime," Bentsen declared.

"We have an emergency problem now in a lot of our courts," he said. "We have let many of them become so clogged with litigation that it sometimes takes years for a final decision to be reached in a case."

"And yet we know that there is no better deterrent to wrongdoing than the sureness of swift justice," he said. "The war against crime can never succeed if we do not improve the administration of justice."

"I purpose that the Congress create 100 special district courts, on a temporary basis, to get these dockets cleaned up so that it will not take several years to get a final decision in a criminal case," Bentsen said.

Bentsen said he feels that the performance of Federal Judges should be evaluated every 10 years because the American people deserve a working judiciary.

"And I think the evidence shows that in too many cases they're not getting what they deserve," he said. "A Judge can be highly competent, or incompetent. He can be a hard worker and keep his docket in order, or he can be lazy. Whatever he is, he is answerable to no one under the present system."

Bentsen also is urging compulsory treatment for narcotics addicts and stringent measures against suppliers in other countries.

Bush

Congressman George Bush said last week that Texas voters will not "fall for the phony vote-the - straight - ticket line" when choosing their next Senator this November.

"All the polls show the Texas voter being more independent," Bush said. "Clearly, today's Texas voter will not fall for the phony vote - the - straight - ticket, let someone else think for you line."

Rep. Bush is the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate. The Houston Congressman said that Texans will vote for the man they feel can be more effective in Washington.

"This is a new decade," Bush said. "Voters are tired of the old. The old answers will not do. The old voter straight tickets will not do. The old way of doing things isn't good enough for the 70's."

The country is calling out for social fair play, for sound economic answers and for constructive change, Bush said, "but change within the 'can-do' Texas philosophy."

Bush noted that he supports programs in Congress to decentralize the government, to reform ethics, and to "pry out of the Senate" strong crime legislation.

Rep. Bush was critical of persons who attack the President purely for political reasons. "When President Johnson was President I voted my convictions," Bush said. "I voted against his national programs on many occasions, but I never attacked the President or tried to add to the personal burden of the Presidency."

"I don't believe Texans want a man in the Senate who for pure party politics will kick the President of the U.S.A. as he tries to solve our country's tough national problems," he said.

"I will support the President when he is right," Bush said, "and I will oppose him when he is wrong. But I will not kick the President. I simply will not do it."

Eggers

The following is a statement by Paul Eggers, Republican candidate for Governor, made Thursday at the opening of the Tarrant County Eggers Campaign Headquarters in Fort Worth.

"I am deeply concerned about the sharp upturn in Texas' crime rate this year. "The latest report from the Department of Public Safety warns that during the first six months of 1970 a major crime was committed every 60 seconds. When I discussed this issue in 1968, the D.P.S. report showed that a major crime was committed every 90 seconds. "This upsurge is an unfortunate fact of today's life, but we can do something about it. Crime, however, is not fought with sugar-coated pills and inaction by the government. "I am convinced that one positive approach to solving our crime problem is to allow our judges to impose real life sentences. Under the present law a life prisoner can become eligible for parole within 20 years and with maximum credit for good behavior he can become eligible in only 12 years. These 'good time' credits are the most liberal of any state in the union. "It should be possible to impose real life sentences to protect our society from the small but extremely dangerous number of violent criminals. If there are extenuating circumstances, however, it would still be possible to correct an error through executive clemency. "As governor, I will not tolerate the coddling of hardened criminals and will seek legislation that will permit genuine life sentences in Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Senkel visited Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Stoebner on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Loftin and Bowen of Navasota spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. Milton and Buster Weems.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Phipps and sons of Pearland spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Phipps.

Channel 9 Introduces Ed Series

"Sahays in American Literature" and "Geography for the Seventies," two new instructional series for secondary students, are being broadcast for the first time during the 1970-71 school year over KLRN-TV, Channel 9, according to Mrs. Myrtle Boyce, director of instructional programming.

Dr. Karl Ames, associate professor of English at the University of Texas at Austin, is the television teacher for "Sahays in American Literature," a series of 15 lectures designed to serve as somewhat light-footed "side-trips" to seek out thoughts and themes the student might not normally encounter down the main course of American literature.

The course will deal with many facets of American culture that are often of necessity neglected in the classroom -- folklore as well as American humor and American names.

The series begins September 24 and will be seen throughout the school year on alternate Thursdays, every hour, beginning at 8:50 a.m. and ending at 2:50 p.m.

Richard G. Boehm, television teacher for "Geography in the Seventies," presently teaches geography at Southwest Texas State University. The 15 programs in the course comprise a selection of critical topics of interest and concern to world geography students during the decade of the '70's.

Each program is a visual treatment of geographic areas of modern global life which influence present and future earth populations, with strong emphasis on the issues of pollution and conservation.

"Geography in the Seventies" will be seen on alternate Tuesdays, starting September 22, with broadcasts every hour, 8:50 a.m. - 2:50 p.m.

Both series are productions of KLRN-TV.

Fall Coats Play The Fake Skin Game

VESTED INTEREST—Nanman lets you play the fake skin game close to the chest in this dashing midi coat. It's done with a python-grained vinyl vest and matching coat buttons. The detachable vest is belted high on the water-repellent coat to highlight the long sweep of skirt.

Conservationists take note: coats take a hide-bound attitude for fall, 1970, but they go to great lengths to conserve wild life by playing a skin-game that's purely fake. Winning skins in the fashion game are cottons that look like lizard, snake, crocodile, ocelot, leopard, tiger, calf, buck, and pony—you name it and you can find its equivalent in cotton.

The fake skins turn up in vinyl-coated cotton prints that are richly grained in reptile patterns or in soft cotton suedes, ribless corduroys, and velveteens with authentic-looking pelt markings.

Style-wise, the standard topper for fall is the reed-slim midi coat that offers practical protection against the cold. Most are belted for a long, slim look... some take over-vests for added interest.

It's a season when fashion offers options and hemlines, of course, are among the most obvious choices.

Besides the midi, coats show up in lengths that hover around the knee... a few inches above or below. Even minis are still in evidence for those who prefer to take the shorter view of fashion.

Other options include single vs. double-breasted stylings, and capes or ponchos instead of coats.

THE SKIN GAME—Coats take a hide-bound attitude for fall, as evidenced in this midi that looks like real snakeskin. Made from reptile-printed cotton covered with vinyl, the coat is waterproof and can be dry-cleaned. A wide black belt accents the Smart Maid of California design.

THE SHORTER VIEW—Cotton suede with shadings that make it look like authentic animal hide is the choice for a casual mini-length coat in 1970's soft, unconstructed look. In chamois, antelope, or brown, it comes with a matching hat and bag. Styled by Winnet of California.

It's The Mini-Midi-Maxi Way

The mini is alive and well—but, then so are the midi and the maxi. It's a hair-length wardrobe to match today's way of life—swingin' and carefree. And, hair can do anything a wig can do!

The three different hair styles made to order for the mini-midi-maxi looks are the result of the third annual Breck Hair Styling Contest. The panel decided that the Seventies reflect a variety of looks, and to select one winner was prehistorically rigid—so, three grand prize winners were selected to emulate the looks of today.

The mini-do style comes from California. Dawna Singleton's "California Whisp" is perfect for the carefree and active girl. Short and shaggy it demands very little care.

Midi-minded Linda McQueen knows the simple things in life are often the best. Her "Southern Simplicity" is a bouncy flip that rides mid-length just above her shoulders. To help keep her hair in shape, Linda uses Breck Satin—it provides a foundation for the hair and acts as a conditioner for dry or damaged hair.

Typically feminine is the maxi-do of Deborah Legg. Her "West Virginia Swing" is all-girl softness. Deborah uses electric rollers for quick, daily sets. But, for her, the maxi is for hair only—believing that long hair makes a girl look young, but that long skirts turn her into a grandmother before her time.

The three winners each have a different approach to the Seventies—but they know there's no one style or way to do anything. And, their hair styles prove that hair can do anything a wig can do—and better.

Theme 'Happiness Is A Garden' For Civic Club School Menu

The members of the Civic Garden Club opened their first meeting of the year with a no host breakfast at the Texas Restaurant on Thursday, September 17th. Mrs. R. G. Grabein, Membership chairman, introduced Mrs. Grady Little and Mrs. W. L. Shires, who were welcomed as new members to the club.

Mrs. Milton J. Falkner, club president, presided for a short business session during which time Mrs. Leo Fuchs, program and yearbook chairman, presented the books and noted the various programs planned for the year, headed by the club theme, "Happiness is a Garden."

The club voted to purchase Floral Place - Mats, a project of the state organization, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.

Afterwards, for the program of the morning, the group went to the Cacti Garden of Mrs. C. C. Armstrong at 106 Ross Street. There the hostess, Mrs. Armstrong, enthusiastically identified many of the large variety of cacti which she has acquired. She told how, where and from whom some of the special plants were obtained.

Mrs. Armstrong said she considers her interest a great hobby and that of most value, which is immeasurable, is the therapeutic benefit which results from such a venture.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Alvin Dusek on October 8 and Mrs. W. M. Fanning will present a program on "Hidden Wonders" - Bulbs.

Countians Attend THDA Convention

By Christine Laws

Four Milam County Home Demonstration club members were among the approximately 1,000 delegates and members that convened in Galveston, September 16-17 for the 44th annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

Those attending from Milam County were: Mrs. Clyde Holliman, County THDA chairman, Mrs. W. I. Skinner, delegate and county THDA chairman elect, Mrs. C. P. Beard, all of Rockdale and Mrs. Wavy Charles, delegate from Tracy. Mrs. Charles also served on the program for the State Cultural Arts and Recreation Workshop.

Persons attending represented more than 34,000 Texas homemakers who are active in educational programs of the THDA. Extension agents and specialists served as advisors to the homemakers.

Special features of the annual meeting at the Moody Convention Center included several major addresses; nine educational workshops ranging from citizenship to family life and cultural arts and recreation; an election of officers; annual business meeting; planning for assistance at several State 4-H activities; and outlining plans for participation in the National Extension Homemakers Council meeting at Las Vegas, Nevada, November 29 through December 4.

Book Review Is Program For BPW

The Cameron Business and Professional Womens Club met Monday at the Clubhouse, Milam and 4th St.

Mrs. Bill Hartley presented the program, a review of the book "Run Baby, Run" by Dr. Wilkerson. It is the life story of Micky Cruz.

After a short business meeting the hostesses, Mrs. Willie Faulkner and Mrs. Mary Houston, served a sandwich plate and desert to the nine members and four visitors: Mrs. Adelaide Bickett, Mrs. Cass Walden, Mrs. Florence Markham and Mrs. Hartley.

From Mama With Love

Calorie Collage

Dear Duckie:

Thanks for the joke clippings. You know the kind of humor I appreciate; I especially like the one about the waitress and her "synonym" toast. There's something very endearing to me about the people who are gifted with a talent for getting the wrong word in the right place or making up their own words to suit.

Our own darling Betty used to make the most startling words by simple transpositions: "deskinerate" for disintegrate, "de-winklent" for delinquent, "criminal" for criminal, "upcomance" for comeuppance, and on and on. I used to call her "my favorite word factory" now that she's grownup she usually gets her words in order. Some of the joyful expectancy has gone out of listening to her speak.

Remember Marcy? She used to be a real mistress of the bent syllable. Telling me about her Sunday School lesson, she said, "We studied about people of different religions: Jews and Muslims and Buddhists and 'morons'." Then she went on to say she'd heard the young associate minister was going back to the "cemetery." I guess seminary is tough, but it can't be that bad!

I love people who wear "stimulated" pearls and have relatives living in "Albert Turkey", New Mexico. Also those who hate clothes trimmed with "sequenc-es" and don't care for shopping at "Neiman's Market." Bless the refreshing young mother whose child is so energetic he's like a human "domino." All these dear folk are far more interesting to hear than speakers who are stodgily correct.

A dear little lady I met in a laundromat advised me never to put my underthings in the dryer. "It ruins the 'lastivity'." I'll vote for that word; it covers the situation as well as - and more colorfully than - "elasticity."

The only way a cliché can keep from being a cliché is to be something else. Sometimes the "something else" makes just as much sense, besides being fresher. The ancient expression, "I didn't know him from Adam's off ox" lasted long past the time of oxen, on or off. It sounded much snappier the way our neighbor said it: "I didn't know him from Adam's old fox." Cousin Zelma improved it further when she didn't know someone from "Adam's apple."

Two clichés became one big mess when the unsympathetic philosopher advised an errant friend, "You've buttered your bread; now you'll just have to lie in it." I can't remember who said it, but isn't that choice?

If all these people could "con-jegate" there would be a grand gathering. Perhaps outsiders would say they were "unmentally balanced" from the heat, but I'd insist that "It's not the heat, it's the humanity"... or perhaps the "humid relativity."

Remember God loves you, and have a good week.

Love,

Mama

Plant Benches Freshen Room

Planter benches have a place indoors as well as out. You can show off favorite plants to good effect by placing them on a long, low base of wood.

A grouping of various sizes and shapes set on an oblong bench or an L-shaped unit for a corner lends any room the freshness of a garden.

For small planter boxes or pots, 2x2-inch legs and framing will suffice. Heavier containers may require 2x4's or 4x4's. Western lumber is especially suited to stain, which should be an unobtrusive color, since the bench is only background.

Milam's Oil Output Told

DALLAS — Texas oil fields have produced more than 32 million barrels of oil during the past 80 years of recorded production, according to the latest compilation of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Milam County, which has recorded production since 1921, has had a total crude oil output of 5,943,434 barrels up to the beginning of 1970. Milam County production in 1969 was 140,124 barrels at the rate of 384 barrels a day.

An income of $3.6 billion for oil production last year in Texas was distributed widely, as 198 of the state's 254 counties produce oil.

Gregg County remained the all-time champ with a cumulative production of 2,195,668,052 barrels.

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN by VERN SANFORD

Several years ago Dave Hawk, who has distinguished himself as a great bass fisherman, was weighing in a string of lunkers. A little woman approached him, looked over the string, and then asked "Don't you ever catch any little ones?"

"They are harder to catch than the big ones," Hawk replied. And therein lies a story of the few men who never seem to catch anything but big fish.

Hawk is one of them. Another is Tex Heth, who guides around Toledo Bend and Rayburn in East Texas. Then there is John Fox of San Augustine. He never seems to take one under four pounds.

It's a strange feeling to sit in a boat with an angler and both of you catch fish, but the other fellow invariably gets the lunkers. He will catch as many as you do fish-for-fish, but while you are stringing up two-pounders, he will land several in the four-pound class and some that go to six.

You'll be fishing with the same lures, and perhaps even the same make rod and reel. You watch him and try to fish as nearly as possible like he does, yet he continues to haul in the big brutes that you'd give anything just to try to land.

Such men are deliberately fishing for the big 'uns and utilizing all their knowledge and skill for taking braggin' size bass. There are many fishing secrets, and some fishermen seem to know most of them.

For one thing, these lunkers landers fish practically every day.

They know their waters. They are able to "read" water with an experienced eye. They watch for the natural habitats of big bass. They know, by studying the land adjacent to the water, where the ledges are. Then, they have a pretty good estimate of where the points run down into the water.

They mark big trees protruding in the best fishing water. They conserve their casts. When they toss out the lure, they feel that the big old bass they missed the day before may be lurking there again. . . . and he usually is. I've known fishermen to go back to the same spot for days just because they knew one big fish lived there.

A real good fisherman, whom I will not name, once was guiding a friend of mine. They had caught a tremendous string of crappie and decided they'd try a little cove for some blacks. My friend hooked one and thought it was a log. Because he knew fishing better, the guide realized it wasn't a log but a lunker.

He went back there a couple of days later and latched onto the same bass, but he lost it, too. This went on for days. The big old bass would grab the plug, spit it out and leave the fisherman empty handed.

No man can stand that kind of treatment, even if he has already caught a boat load of big bass.

Yoe Yoes Win Over Gatesville

Tuesday night at Yoe Field, Cameron's eight grade Yoe Yoes got their first win of the season over Gatesville. A strong defense along with some fine ball handling enabled them to blank the Hornets 30-0.

Outstanding on offense were Bruce Zarosky, Gene Kopriva, and Willie Bell. The defense was led by Mike Mueck, Gary Trdy, James Bailey, Kopriva, and Zarosky. Scoring for the Yoe Yoes were Zarosky and Bell with two touchdowns each. Extra points were added by Bell and the passing combination of Kopriva to Jeff Smitherman.

The seventh grade got their second win of the season by downing a stubborn Gatesville team. Scoring was lead by Jafus White with two touchdowns and another was scored by Stanley Manners. Dennis Hollas scored on a two-point conversion and the final score was 20-14.

Amendment No. 2...
'Liquor-By-Drink'
Proposed Again

AMENDMENT NO. 2- S.J.R. NO. 10

(Amending Article XVI, Section 20, Subsection (a), to authorize the legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on a local option basis.)

The proposed amendment repeals that part of Article XVI, Section 20, Subsection (a), of the Texas Constitution, which prohibits the open saloon and which empowers the legislature to define that term and enact legislation against it.

The proposed amendment substitutes a new provision empowering the legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on a local option basis. The amendment leaves unaffected the part of Subsection (a) which empowers the legislature to regulate the manufacture, sale, possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors, including the power to establish a state monopoly on the sale of distilled liquor.

ment to the federal constitution, which repealed the 18th Amendment, became effective in December, 1933.

The 44th Legislature of the State of Texas then submitted an amendment to repeal state prohibition, and it was ratified in August, 1935. The 1935 amendment authorized the sale of hard liquor on a local option basis but prohibited the open saloon.

Many attempts have been made over the years to achieve liquor by the drink, but the issue did not become a major one until it was endorsed by Governor John Connally in 1967. Connally's proposal for a "minibottle" plan of liquor by the drink failed to receive a majority vote during the 1st Called Session of the 60th Legislature in June, 1968.

Many lawmakers contended that the constitution would first have to be amended to repeal the provision banning open saloons. Such a resolution was offered and passed for submission to the Texas electorate during the Regular Session of the 61st Legislature.

BACKGROUND

During the early days of the Republic, Texas had no restrictions against the operation of an open saloon other than the requirement that the proprietor pay a tax and that he be bonded to guarantee that an orderly and reputable house would be maintained.

As the frontier atmosphere faded and civilization sank its roots deeper into community life, temperance groups were militant but only mildly successful in attempts to bring about prohibition in the state. In 1887 the voters of the state defeated an amendment dealing with prohibition by a vote of 220,000 to 129,000.

Temperance groups found little support during the next 20 years, but in 1911 a similar proposed amendment on prohibition was lost by only 6,000 votes. World War I again brought prohibition into prominence, and when the federal government submitted the national prohibition amendment in 1918, it was adopted by the legislature.

However, prohibition lacked the public support necessary for enforcement, and when Congress modified the Volstead Act to permit the sale of beer in 1933, Texas adopted an amendment to the state constitution legalizing the sale of beer. The 21st Amendment.

BLESSED SACRAMENT CATHOLIC, Cameron

Fr. Joseph Pocovi, T. O. K.

"AM I RICH"

...this thoughtful man reflects. Men call him a captain of industry but that may not make him successful. He has no fear of the future as far as the comforts of life go but, never the less, he stands in pensive thought. Has he given companionship to his children? Has he taken them to the right places? How often has he sat with his family in church? Would they call him a good Father, a successful husband? Has he shared in building a good community and civic institutions? Any man is much richer who does these things. But who is the truly rich man? What is the distinguishable mark? If he should die this night, who would miss him? Would neighbors be made poorer by his going? Would any hungry folk go without food because his hand was stayed? Perhaps he is asking the ancient question... am I rich with God? All of us should ponder, "just what will I carry into His presence when I go?" What are the qualities which make a rich person? That man is truly rich who leaves a poorer world by his going. Then come with me to church and learn of the ways of God.

You Is The Church
The Church Is You
...form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the Church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
